Dist. Atty. Claims New Evidence Found In Valentino Case

URGES PUBLIC AID GRAND JURY PROBE

Mayo Ready to Face Charges Resulting from Mexico Marriage

LOS ANGELES, June 20.—Many prosecutions for bigamous marriages in the Hollywood film colony, as well as in other parts of Los Angeles county, are expected to result from a grand jury investigation scheduled to start here June 26, it was announced here today.

The case of Rudolph Valentino, accused of marrying Winifred Hudnut before his divorce decree from Jean Acker became final, led to discovery of many more such violations of the California divorce law. A clean sweep is promised by the district attorney's office.

"It happens that the Valentino case was the first brought to our attention," said Deputy District Attorney Costello, "but since we launched our investigation we have received evidence that will lead to many other prosecutions. I have issued an appeal to the public to aid in furnishing information concerning any bigamous marriages in this county which we expected to clean up by a complete inquiry by the grand jury."

With regard to the Valentino case, Deputy District Attorney McClelland said: "New evidence has been secured, which we hope will secure an indictment." The first charge against Valentino was dismissed after a preliminary hearing.

W. L. Gilbert, Valentino's attorney, said he believed the case had been settled.

Frank Mayo, whom Costello named as one whose marriage would be investigated, declared he believed he did no wrong in marrying Dagmar Godowsky in Mexico, and that he is ready to face any charges in that connection.

Mystery Bandit Holds Up Autoists for Rides, Takes No Loot

MARYSVILLE, Cal., June 20.—Posses today sought a "mystery bandit" who held up two automobile parties last night and forced them to drive with him, at tremendous speed, towards Oroville, but took no valuables.

JURORS MUST DECIDE FATE OF GOVERNOR

Waukegan, Ill., June 20.—Governor Len Small's case will have to go to the jury. Judge Claire C. Edwards today refused to take the case from the hands of the jurors and order an acquittal as requested by the defense.

HALE, KELLOGG WIN IN RACES FOR SENATE

AUGUSTA, Maine June 20.—Senator Frederick Hale was re-nominated for the United States senate on the Republican ticket in yesterday's primary by a large plurality, returns from 535 out of 636 precincts in the state showed today.

Governor Baxter was leading by more than two to one in the gubernatorial race, 535 precincts giving him 31,885 votes, while John P. Deering had 12,480 and Leon F. Higgins 7,915.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 20.—Senator Frank B. Kellogg, Republican candidate to succeed himself, piled up a heavy lead over two opponents in early returns from Monday's primary.

Returns from 243 precincts out of 3,438 gave Kellogg 16,255; Ernest Lundeen, 7,747; Richard Titus, 1,762.

Ans. D. Oleson, Democratic candidate for the United States senate nomination, gained a slight lead over Thomas J. Meighen in the first scattering returns. The vote in 148 precincts gave Mrs. Olsen 1,511; Meighen, 1,453.

Edward Drehehus had a slight lead over Merle Birmingham in the contest for the Democratic nomination for governor.

BIG FARMING ZONE HIT BY TEXAS FLOOD

Rio Grande Levees Break as Water Reaches Crest; Thousands Flee to Hills.

EAGLE PASS, Tex., June 20.—After reaching a stage of fifty feet, the highest in 56 years, the Rio Grande river was falling slowly here today. At Laredo, below here, it was reported rising at the rate of one foot an hour and the crest is expected late today.

Hardly had the crest of the flood been reached when valley towns were threatened with a new danger by the breaking of the levee near Mission, Texas.

Despite the efforts of over 3000 volunteers, the earthworks gave way, allowing the waters to sweep over an area of several thousand acres. The little town of Mission is practically deserted.

No lives were lost when the levee broke because ample opportunity had been given those living in the flooded district to escape.

GOMPERS' FOES BOOST LEWIS FOR OFFICE

(United Press Leased Wire) OHIO NATIONAL GUARD ARMY, CINCINNATI, Ohio, June 20.—The American Federation of Labor convention was thrown into a lively scrap over a resolution congratulating Alexander Howat, Kansas mine leader, for his "courageous and steadfast determination to uphold the law."

SHRINE TRAIN IN COLORADO RAIL WRECK

CLEVELAND, June 20.—The strains of Lohengrin's wedding march—The smiling bridal couple coming down the aisle—Showers of rice and confetti—"You are wanted at headquarters—we have a warrant for your arrest!" And detectives step forward to lay their hands on the shoulders of the bridegroom.

As they leave the church, a woman tears her hat from her head, disclosing lacerations and bandages.

"See what you did! See what you did!" she shrieks.

Thus ended the wedding here of Clark Fogarty and Miss Dorothy Fluck, both of Lakewood, a suburb of this city.

Fogarty is charged with having attacked Mrs. Peggy Emanuel, the woman who upbraided him as the detectives carried him away from his bride. Mrs. Emanuel was beaten over the head with a revolver in her home. The attack was made in an effort to obtain valuable diamonds belonging to Mrs. Emanuel, detectives believe.

"I was desperate. I needed the money—I had to have it," police say Fogarty confessed when taken to the station.

Money to pay for the furnishings in the little Lakewood home where his bride were to live! Fear that lack of money might halt the wedding!

"I will stand by Clark," his bride declares. "I cannot believe he did this thing while in his right mind. He must have been crazy through worry." And then she tells of how he was wounded and gassed overseas. "Might it not be that?" she asks.

LOS ANGELES, June 20.—San Bernardino authorities were expected here today to identify a man believed to be Charles W. A. Stickney, son of the late A. B. Stickney, president of the Chicago and Great Western railway, on advice charging him with embezzlement of funds said to have been collected by him for supposed investment in Mexican land properties.

23 PASSENGERS INJURED AS FLYER LEAVES TRACK DUE TO SPREADING RAILS

SALIDA, Colo., June 20.—Twenty-three passengers were injured, three seriously, when the dining car, three Pullmans and the observation car on the first section of Denver and Rio Grande Western train No. 2, east-bound, left the track 20 miles east of Leadville today.

The wreck was believed to have been caused by spreading rails. The injured, several of whom were Shriners, returning from their convention at San Francisco, were being brought to a hospital here.

$100,000 Blaze Sweeps Packing Plant at Beach

LOS ANGELES, June 20.—Damages estimated at $100,000 were done by a fire which early today destroyed the big fish packing plant of Glacini and company at Long Beach, according to word received here. Nearby buildings were saved from the flames which cast burning brands and sparks on the surrounding warehouses. The cause of the fire was under investigation.

Invite Russians To Attend Hague European Parley

THE HAGUE, June 20.—The formal invitation to the Russians to come to The Hague to negotiate on the basis of the Geneva agreement was forwarded today by Foreign Minister Von Karmark of the Netherlands.

The communication does not contain any formula or basis of discussion, first, because the allies have not yet agreed on these matters themselves, and second, because the British objected to any set terms such as the French desired.

The British feared Russia would regard such terms as an ultimatum and assume a defiant attitude.

Smugglers Are Trapped With Unloading Liquor Near Salinas

(United Press Leased Wire) SALINAS, Cal., June 20.—One thousand cases of Scotch whiskey from Canada, twelve touring cars, a motor truck, and a gasoline launch were seized and at least half a dozen men arrested early today when prohibition agents trapped rum smugglers on the coast near Point Pinos, according to word reaching here.

The seizure was made only after an exchange of shots between the prohibition officers, who were from San Francisco under the leadership of Special Agent Wheeler, and the smugglers.

The officers had been "tipped" that the liquor would be landed at Point Pinos during the night, and laid plans to execute the raid.

They lay in wait most of the night, according to information reaching here and shortly after daylight closed in on the smugglers.

The rum runners offered resistance and several shots were exchanged, but no one was injured. Two of the party of smugglers were reported to have escaped while the others, known to have numbered more than half a dozen, and probably numbering considerably more, were captured.

They were taken to Monterey this morning, together with the seized motor cars and the liquor.

TRACE RUM BOAT FROM CANADA TO MONTEREY

SAN FRANCISCO, June 20.—Eight men were arrested and two escaped when prohibition officers swooped down on liquor smugglers near Monterey today, according to advices to officers here.

The raid was planned when word was received that liquor cargo, loaded at Vancouver, B. C., and ostensibly consigned to Ensenada, Lower California, would be landed at Monterey.

Sunday the vessel bearing liquor anchored off Monterey outside the three mile limit. Prohibition agents were advised and last night went to the scene in automobiles, catching the smugglers, "red handed."

Officers believe they have broken the back of one of the largest rings on the coast, by means of the raid. For months it has been generally believed that California's liquor supply, and probably that of Oregon and Washington, was being unloaded from vessels clearing Canadian ports for Lower California.

PACT BACKERS GAIN IN IRISH ELECTION

DUBLIN, June 20.—Election returns continue to show gains for the candidates favoring the peace treaty with Britain. The count at present shows ninety-two pro-treaty candidates elected to the constituent assembly, twenty-three anti-treaty, eight independents, and seven labor.

Political Statements

In announcing his candidacy for county treasurer, Ralph W. Mead, of Orange county is valued to mind. It is pointed out that throughout his residence here, Mead has been known as a man of sterling worth and integrity, a man whose character and reputation are such as to demand him as one thoroughly qualified to be placed in a position of high trust.

For a number of years, Mead was with the Pendleton Lumber and Mill company, which he helped organize and of which he was vice president and manager. For seven or eight years he was a member of the firm of Uttley and Mead, of the Wardrobe. Through his business relations and uniformly courteous treatment of those with whom he has come in contact, Mead has made a wide circle of friends.

For a number of years he has been with the Tustin Hills Citrus association, at Tustin. His home is in Santa Ana.

"Tell your friends about my candidacy," says Mead to his friends. "It will be impossible for me to see all the voters, and that is the reason I am asking my friends to tell others about me."

JESSE L. ELLIOTT

Basing his candidacy on what he believes he has every reason to know has been satisfactory service, Jesse L. Elliott has announced his candidacy for re-election as constable of Santa Ana township.

For the past six years, Elliott has been closely associated with police work in this city. First, he was a deputy under Constable Russell Coleman, and during the war he took care of all of Coleman's civil work. He was appointed to the position of constable in November, 1918, and since January 1919, has held the position by virtue of his election.

Those who have experience with Elliott, say that he uses great care and good judgment in handling of his work, both civil and criminal. Those who have had him attend to civil cases, such as levying of attachments and serving of other papers, say that he does his work promptly and efficiently. That he knows the business is shown by the fact that he has never been sued for any official act of his. Elliott has been a resident of this section since 1900, when he was a boy 10 or 11 years old.

For several years, Elliott was a faithful and efficient officer of Company F, National Guards of California. He was captain of the company when he resigned recently.

FOR CONSTABLE

JOSEPH H. RYAN

He has made good as Police Officer—He will make good as Constable.

FOR SHERIFF

O. K. CARR

He has a clean record as an officer and will make a good sheriff. Let us elect him.

ly in order that he might be able to give full time to his official duties in other lines.

Ralph J. McFadden

Declaring that he stands for a square deal and for prompt and efficient public service, Ralph J. McFadden, of Anaheim, is a candidate for sheriff of Orange county. McFadden has held positions of honor and trust, and has a high ideal of what a public officer owes to his constituents. If elected, he proposes to establish prompt and thorough service as the ideal of his office, and his best energy and resources will be levied on making every act of his and of his office satisfactory from the standpoint of his official obligations. He believes in law enforcement and he believes that law enforcement should be invoked against every kind of a law breaker.

McFadden's record as a public officer shows him to be a man of good judgment, well informed and in every way active and energetic. He was a member of the Orange County Highway commission, a city trustee of Anaheim, and has taken a prominent part in numerous county enterprises.

As a high school and university graduate, a man familiar with business dealings, McFadden's administration will be businesslike. He will follow down criminals with the same fearless, efficient, organized effort that he will use in attending to the large amount of civil work that the sheriff will be called on to attend to for the next four years.

ARTHUR E. KOEPEL

The candidacy of Arthur E. Koepsel for district attorney of Orange county has back of it Koepsel's long training and service in the office of L. A. West, under whom Koepsel served for years as deputy district attorney.

While in the district attorney's office, Koepsel became thoroughly familiar with every department of the work of that officer. He handled scores of criminal cases, and his record as a go-getter in gathering evidence and presentation of his evidence in a convincing, lawful and conscientious manner is declared by his friends to be the best possible proof that he ought to be district attorney.

Koepsel's public service has by no means been confined to the district attorney's office. He organized the local guardsmen for training service during the war, and was credited, as captain of that company, with having the best drilled company in the state. A few months ago, he was advanced to command of a battalion of the regiment, the 160th California guards, and now has the rank of major. He has been chairman of the Republican county central committee for two years, and was chairman for the recent Salvation Army drive.

"A Better District Attorney—Elect Him," is the slogan that appears on some of Koepsel's campaign announcements. It is on that slogan that Koepsel's friends are making a fight for him.

Metal armor plates for ship sides were first proposed during the war of 1812.

EBELL BUILDING COMMITTEE TO BE ENLARGED

Mrs. John Clarkson, president of the Santa Ana Ebells club, today was considering plans to enlarge the committee appointed to have charge of the new clubhouse building program. All but two of the members of the building committee are away from home for the summer, and this probably will occasion a little delay in getting the building program under way, it was said.

Mrs. Susie Rutherford and Mrs. E. M. Neely are the members who are at home. Mrs. Clarkson contemplates the appointment of two or three more members, with a view to having the committee visit other sections where clubhouses have been erected to secure information as to methods for handling such propositions.

The executive board was in session this morning at the home of Mrs. Clarkson. The board of directors held a brief session following adjournment of the executive board. At the director's meeting $300 was ordered transferred from the general fund to the building fund. It was understood that there is about $5000 cash in the building fund with pledges that make the total approximately $15,000.

Officers of the club elected last May will be installed the first meeting of July, the club year running from July to July. It is understood the building committee hopes to have construction of the new Ebells home under way this fall. Plans have not been adopted although two sets have been submitted for approval.

City and County Briefs

Members of Santa Ana Post No.

131, American Legion, today were guessing as to the possible gross receipts of business at the Valencia billiard hall, North Main street, tomorrow, due to the fact that the cash will go to the building fund of the post. R. A. Lee, the owner of the hall, has volunteered to give the post the cash receipts from his business one day in each month, the only stipulation being that the money shall go into the building fund. A representative of the post will be in charge of the business tomorrow.

The rush to register the dog population of Santa Ana continued unabated today, figures recorded by W. W. Chandler, city sanitary inspector, showed. Up to noon, approximately 140 canines had been signed up and presented with regulation dog tags.

The first twenty days of June brought forth building permits totaling $436,942, the records of City Building Inspector W. S. Decker showed this forenoon. The total for the year was $1,742,810.

Charles F. Smith and family today were making arrangements for leaving Santa Ana Saturday for their island summer home at Richard's landing, St. Joseph's channel, Lake Huron. They will be gone until September.

Harry Hanson, C. M. Rowland and C. L. Pritchard, all of the First National bank, and W. D. King, of the Southern California Edison company, were home today from their vacations. Hanson, who was accompanied on his vacation by Mrs. Hanson, was absent two weeks. The others, who went to Yosemite, were there a week.

Legal papers involving a proposed $150,000 bond issue at Fullerton are scheduled to be presented to the city council here tonight by City Attorney F. H. Lyon and City Engineer Ren Dupuy. The issue is intended for the improvement of certain streets including the resurfacing of West Commonwealth avenue from Richman street to the city limits with a four-inch asphalt pavement.

30 MOVIE GIRLS TO ENTER BALBOA FETE

Headed by "Miss Jewel Pathé," known as the "Butterfly girl," thirty motion picture beauties will participate in the bathing girls' contest at Balboa next Sunday, according to an announcement today.

Among those who will take part are Leona Wells, Evelyn Erickson, Opal Doyle, Phyllis Lane, Hazel Stalling, Hazel De Vere, Dorothy Campbell, Fay Parrish, Dorothy Dee, Lottie Williams, Bonnie Adair, Frances Gordon and Lucille, the "baby-vamp."

George Edgar and Mit Phillips of Santa Ana will be among the judges, according to the announcement. Others as announced are J. P. Greeley, Glenn Wallace, Walter Eastlack and E. J. Lewis of Balboa, George Slater of Los Angeles and Stewart Dunlap of the Metro Picture corporation, Los Angeles.

REPORTS BAG LOSS

Loss of a black traveling bag, containing wearing apparel, was reported today to the police by the owner, R. D. Crenshaw, of the Orange County Trust and Savings bank. The bag was lost from a car on South Main street, Friday evening, it was said.

GAS COMPANY STOCK TO ADVANCE AUGUST 1

An advance in the price of Southern Counties Gas company 8 per cent cumulative stock, effective August 1, 1922, was announced by the company today. Up to next August 1, the price will remain as originally offered, $90 a share, cash, and $100 a share on term payments. After August 1 the price will advance $1 a share.

According to Ferdinand R. Bain, president of the Southern Counties Gas company, that public service corporation has been very successful in marketing its preferred stock via the customer-ownership plan.

"We have sold out stock," said Bain, "in the forty-four Southern California cities in which we distribute gas. This has been done entirely through the efforts of our own employees. Such an undertaking a few years ago would not have been attempted but we find that the war and liberty loan drives developed the idea of thrift."

SHAPELY ANKLES IN SHOE STYLE DISPLAY

PASADENA, June 20. —Tonight the California Shoe Dealers' association convention will stage a shoe style show at the Raymond theater here, following the opening of the sessions this morning at the Hotel Maryland.

The program is kept a dark secret, although it has leaked out that the attendance will be large, as some of the most shapely ankles in moviedom are believed to have consented to be present to display them in the latest styles in shoes.

President Al. Katchinski of the association opened the meeting this morning, after the 250 delegates and buyers had been welcomed to the Crown City by Chairman Hiram Wadsworth of the city directorate. C. K. Chisholm, president of the National Shoe Retailers' association, was to make the principal address this afternoon. Tomorrow will be given over largely to playing golf.

$1400 NOTE CENTER IN S. A. LAW ACTION

Vard W. Hannum, city electrician and water superintendent at Anaheim, was plaintiff today in an action in the superior court, directed against his father-in-law, E. S. Palmer, of Orange, and his brother-in-law, Jay Palmer, of San Bernardino. The suit was based on an alleged note for $1450. Other defendants were Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Shields.

According to the complaint, the note was executed by E. S. and Jay Palmer, in favor of Mr. and Mrs. Anna I. Spray, from whom they purchased the Orange Book store, at Orange. The note was subsequently assigned to Hannum. It was secured by a chattel mortgage on store fixtures, which mortgage was assumed by the Shields. Judgment for $1450 and foreclosure of the mortgage to satisfy the claim were asked by Hannum, who is represented by Attorney L. F. Co-burn, of Orange.

HARDING'S TRIP TO S. A. STILL IN DOUBT

In spite of the fact that President Harding has given up his plans for an Alaskan trip, according to information given out at the White House today, he will visit California and Santa Ana at the first opportunity, possibly this summer.

This was disclosed today by Mrs. E. E. Remsburg, 1701 North Main street, sister of the President. Although President Harding had not notified her of the definite abandonment of the Alaska journey, he had, in a letter received by her several weeks ago, told her that unless congress adjourned by August 1, he would be unable to undertake it.

According to Mrs. Remsburg, President Harding has been very desirous of visiting California for some time, and had made extensive plans to stop at the home of his sister before going to Alaska. The press of governmental affairs has made serious inroads on his time, Mrs. Remsburg said, intimating that he might not even find time to attend the centennial celebration at his home in Marion, O., next month.

12 GIVE O. K. ON HOSPITAL PLEDGES

Twelve persons who had pledged support to the Community hospital building program in the drive some months ago, had replied today to the notice sent out yesterday by the Santa Ana Community Hospital association advising that the directors had decided to build a new unit on the Wellington street front of the hospital property, and that if pledges made were permitted to stand the public would not be called upon for more funds.

According to C. A. Riggs, all but one of those who responded agreed that the pledges they made should stand. The one said that if the association contemplated construction of a permanent building, he would make his pledge good. The unit will be of permanent construction. Riggs announced that J. S. Smart, of the Smart and Final Wholesale Grocery company, had been elected a member of the board of directors of the association.

The Spurgeon Semi-Annual Sale Is Saving Money for Hundreds!

NOTE

—The savings in each instance are marked on tags, showing plainly amount at which the piece was originally marked and the sale price.

—The main thing that we want to impress upon you is that values are here and they are matchless. Tags used on discontinued patterns and odd suits show savings totaling in themselves many thousands of dollars.

—Throughout the entire floor space occupied by the Spurgeon Furniture Company are spread opportunities galore. It is one of the most imposing sales we have ever held, partly because of the hopeful turn in trade and industry, and partly because we have the stock of furniture and have marked it down to savings that are selling it right and left.

People Seem to Have Been Awaiting Remarkable Furniture Opportunities

—That is judging from the way they are taking advantage of them.

—They don't have to be told what it means to have a choice from Spurgeon's stock of furniture at prices far less than usual.

—Varieties are still helpfully large in all selections.

—Bedroom Suites and separate pieces and dining room suites and separate pieces are in notable assortment.

—And there's a good choice of Living Room Suites as well as rugs, carpets, summer furniture, floor coverings, refrigerators, in fact everything for the home.

TRAIN'S VICTIM ONCE LIVED AT COSTA MESA

That Garnett D. Osburn, 33, who was killed instantly last Sunday night when he was struck by a Santa Fe train while driving in his buggy toward his ranch at Auburn, three miles out of Corona, was until two years ago a resident of Costa Mesa, became known here today.

Mr. Osburn was killed at 5 p. m. when he attempted to cross the railroad track ahead of the train. Funeral services will be held at the chapel at Corona tomorrow at 10 a. m. Interment will be made in the cemetery at Corona.

Mr. Osburn leaves a widow, Mrs. Rachel Osburn, a mother, Mrs. Mary Etta Osburn, of Delaware, and three step-children.

Mr. and Mrs. Osburn sold a part of their property at Costa Mesa about two years ago to T. De Winkle. They retained a lot close to the Costa Mesa store, it is understood.

S. A. BEHIND IN GIRLS' WORK IS CLAM

While Santa Ana enjoys exceptionally well-organized community efforts in music, in the drama and in a number of lesser activities, the city so far has failed to provide adequate means for recreation and special training for girls, and is decidedly backward in relation to supervised playgrounds.

These, in brief, are the conclusions of Don T. Orput, representative of the Community Service, Inc., a national organization. Orput arrived here Friday to make a survey of community recreational conditions. He has held conferences with numerous organization leaders in this city.

Boy Work Successful.
"I find," said Orput, "that community efforts have been successful in boy work, including the Boy Scouts and the Y. M. C. A., which, through the success of the recent campaign, now is well on its feet. But there are no Girl Scouts, and so far no Y. W. C. A. organization doing anything extensive among the girls. There is an opportunity here for work among the girls to be developed to very good advantage."

"Santa Ana is decidedly backward in supervised playgrounds. There ought to be a number of such places in a city the size of Santa Ana. The tendency now is that not so much for playgrounds apparatus as it is toward brains in that direction. Trained leaders can get better results with children on a bare lot than they can where the space is crowded with expensive apparatus. There should be locations in every corner of the city where little tots could paddle around in a pool especially built for them."

Says City Well Fitted.
"Santa Ana is fitted so ideally for that kind of thing that it seems that successful operation of supervised playgrounds easily would be attained. For instance, children can play outdoors here the year around. Then, too, schools could be utilized as playgrounds."

While commending the work that is being done during the summer months at Roosevelt and McKinley schools, Orput said that he believed there should be play activities, under supervision, on all of the school grounds of the city.

He said that an avenue for community activity in Santa Ana that can be followed to larger fields of service is among the Mexicans. Musical entertainments and play grounds, he thinks, could be developed to advantage.

Orput said that San Diego, Long Beach and San Bernardino are organized under the Community Service, Inc., plan. This national organization is maintained by gifts from wealthy persons. There are no dues to pay by local organizations to any national organization.

Becomes Clearing House.
"A local Community Service organization becomes a clearing house for local recreational and entertainment activities, if it is desired that it be a clearing house," said Orput, "or it may work on some one, two or more lines that may be found advisable."

The purpose of his visit here, Orput said, has been to make a general survey of recreational conditions, and to present the plan of the Community Service, Inc., to anyone interested.

"We are not attempting to organize a local association," he said. "We merely want it known that our organization does exist and that it is open to give its service wherever it is sought."

Orput expected to finish his survey here this afternoon.

Relief Corps

The regular meeting of the Woman's Relief Corps was held in G. A. R. Hall Thursday afternoon with president Estelle Ludwig presiding. Mrs. Harriet Cook was initiated into full membership in the order.

The Relief committee reported fifty visits to sick and shut-ins. A report on the entertainment given at Temple Theatre showed a very gratifying success.

At the close of business session memorial services were held in commemoration of members who have passed away during the year.

WE'RE JUST HUMAN ENOUGH TO BE GREATLY PLEASED WITH THIS

The following letter from W. N. Cummings, rancher and mining engineer, of Orange, commends The Register in a way to make its publishers feel pardonably proud and duly grateful:

The Ranch, June 16, 1922.
Mr. Baumgartner and Associates, The Santa Ana Register:

Gentlemen—I have long appreciated how fortunate we are in having such a paper as The "Register" in this community. Besides being a real live Newspaper, it is what I call a real COMMUNITY paper. I like the way it works for community interests, and the generous policy it has of throwing its columns open to community questions. I will not try to enumerate these, as the list includes practically every community interest, but will say that we farmers, between Olive and Tustin, have had recent cause to value your policy. (We'll forget that you didn't quite appreciate Hoover—at the start.)

I have had it in mind for some time to write you something of this sort—had I thought a word from me would have counted I would have done so sooner. However, I recently had occasion to read again Berton Bralley's "Do It Now," and so am following his advice, I refer you to his verse, as fully fitting the case.

Sincerely,
W. N. CUMMINGS.

$10,000 APPARATUS FOR FIREMEN, PLAN

(Special to The Register)

HUNTINGTON BEACH, June 20.—The city council here today was prepared to receive bids for the new fire department apparatus recently voted here to the amount of $10,000.

The council at its session last night called for bids for the material needed, which includes 1000 feet of 2½ inch hose. The council voted to require all city hydrants to measure 2½ inches to correspond with the hose.

The contract for the comfort station to be erected under the pier here was awarded to Wright Brothers of Huntington Beach on their bid of $1750 and the plumbing to Ed Manning of this city on his bid of $1200.

When tent shows visit Huntington Beach hereafter they will be required to pay $5 a day or $25 a week fees. The council took action to that effect and also voted to force visiting shows to pay $12 a year for the privilege of passing out advertising circulars of any kind.

Specifications for the resurfacing of Seventeenth street between City and Main streets were adopted.

A. R. Walker of Los Angeles was appointed supervising architect for the construction of the new city hall and auditorium.

$40,000 SCHOOL BOND VOTE AT DELHI, PLAN

If present plans materialize, between $35,000 and $40,000 will be expended at Delhi in the erection of a new school building, to take care of rapidly-increasing attendance. It was learned here today.

According to Andrew Cook, the school board, at a meeting held last Saturday, decided to recommend a bond issue of at least $35,000,000 to cover the cost of purchasing a site and erecting the new school building.

"It was the sense of the meeting," said Cook, "that present school facilities at Delhi are inadequate. The rapid growth of the South Main street district, and the coming of a number of new subdivisions will tax the capacity of the school."

"If the proposed bond issue is approved, it is probable that three or four acres of ground will be purchased by the Delhi school board for the location of the new school. The new school probably will be located near the old one."

"At another meeting of the board, held last night, it was agreed that the pupils should be segregated, if the new school is built. Provision could be made to take care of the Mexican children apart from the white pupils."

"In a very short time there will be great need of additional and improved school facilities in the Delhi district, and the trustees felt that the time was opportune to present the issue to the voters."

BELOVED YOUTH IS CALLED BY DEATH

TUSTIN, June 20.—Laurence Alford McArthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ruper McArthur of Santa Clara avenue, passed away at 8:30 a. m. at the Community Hospital at Santa Ana, Monday, June 19.

Laurence had been under a physician's care for a week, when an operation was deemed necessary. This was performed on Saturday. He seemed to rally splendidly when a turn for the worse came.

In the passing of Laurence McArthur Tustin High school has lost one of its best pupils. Although only 15 years old, he passed into the Senior year with high marks. He was the captain of the lawn tennis team and had won the "T" for his good athletic qualities. He had a record of perfect attendance for eight years in grammar and high school. His was a sunny disposition and one who was well liked by every one. He was a good Christian boy and had a record of perfect attendance at Sunday school for ten and one-half years. He will be especially missed at the home in which he has been cared for so lovingly and tenderly by Mr. and Mrs. McArthur since he was left an orphan when five years old.

The funeral services will be held with the Rev. Erwin Inwood in charge at the Mills and Wimbler funeral home, Thursday p. m. at 2 o'clock.

A Scientific Means of Destroying Rats and Mice

AZOA

(Rat Virus)

Do you know of the damage done by rats and mice? Everybody knows in a general way that they are destructive, but did you ever stop to think what an enormous sum it amounts to in a year? No exact figures can be given and it is almost sure that any estimate is below rather than above the actual amount, but here are some facts well worth considering—

It is safe to say that the rat population is at least five times the human population of any community. Any ordinary rat will eat at least 50 cents worth of food in a year, most of them a great deal more. At this rate the damage in this country amounts to over

TWO HUNDRED MILLION DOLLARS ANNUALLY!

Add to this—

The food they waste but do not eat.
The fires they cause.
The buildings they damage.
The clothing they ruin.
The sickness and death they cause.
And countless other items.

Now the question is, how much does it cost you—and how much more will you be called upon to contribute if you do not take measures to stop the nuisance? As a sound, common sense, business proposition it is wise to neglect it longer?

Every One In the City of Santa Ana Is Urged To Use AZOA Saturday Night

There will be an organized effort to rid Santa Ana of rats and mice next Saturday night. If you have rats or mice on your premises, join this movement of rat extermination.

Quality Home Furnishing for the June Bride

—The question uppermost in the minds of June brides is the selection of proper furnishings for their future home.

—"Chandler's" occur to most Orange county brides as the logical source for beautiful, quality furniture.

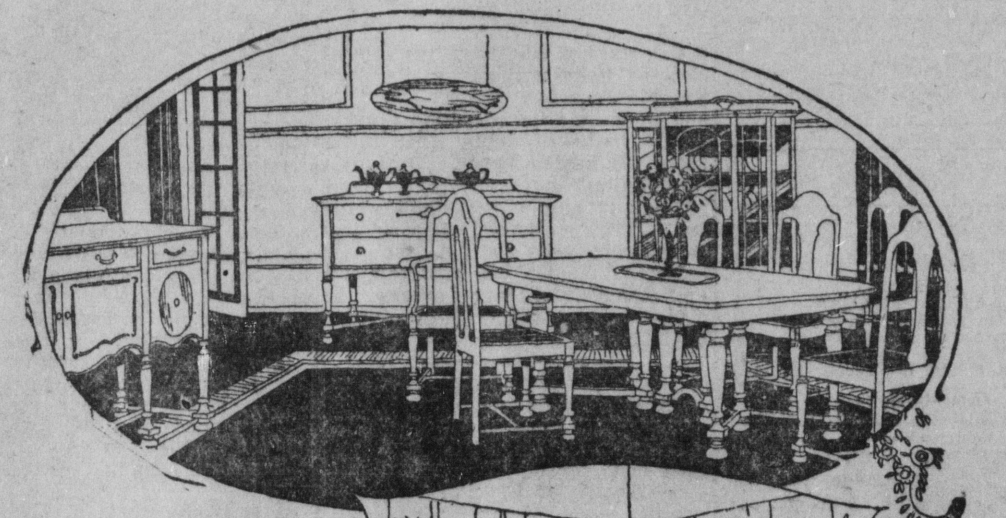

—But there may be a few who have gained a false impression that Chandler's is high priced because we repeatedly emphasize "quality."

—The qualities that give distinctive character to Chandler's home furnishings, and the pre-eminence this store enjoys in Orange county, carry no penalty in the way of higher prices. As a matter of fact you will invariably find better values here.

—Your own comparisons will prove this. Comparisons involve no obligations, and if we can show you better values your visit to this store will be well worth while.

—In urging comparisons we also invite those whose needs are for moderate priced furnishings. We have an extensive selection of good furniture at minimum cost.

—The new things for beautifying the home are now here in greater variety than ever before. We want you to come in and see the many interesting suggestions.

"Yours for quality—but always at the lowest possible price"

Webber-Kellogg Nuptials To Be June Twenty-ninth at Richland M. E. Church

Invitations were out today for the wedding of Miss Iva Lu Webber, daughter of Mrs. Iva M. Webber, 425 South Ross street, and William Smalling Kellogg, of San Francisco, the event to take place Thursday evening, June twenty-ninth at 8:30 o'clock at the Richland avenue Methodist church.

The engagement of Miss Webber and Mr. Kellogg was announced at the annual "conferential" of graduates at the University of California on Wednesday, May 17, and was followed by a number of delightful college affairs ere her return to this city. Here she has been the incentive for many equally pleasant pre-nuptial showers and teas honoring her approaching marriage.

Charming Morning Wedding Followed by Motor Trip To the Northward

One of the much-feted brides of June has been Miss Maud McConnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. McConnell, 811 West Third street, whose engagement to Lawrence Vaughn Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips of Orange, announced several weeks ago, culminated in the pretty wedding service yesterday morning at 10 o'clock at the personage of the Spurgeon Memorial church.

The wedding vows of the young people were taken before the Rev. William Jay Richards, pastor of the church, and in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McClure, brother-in-law and sister of the bride and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McConnell.

Arrayed in peach taffeta with a lovely harmonizing hat, and with her arms filled with bride's roses, Miss McConnell made a charming picture. Immediately after the ceremony, the young couple hastened away on a motor wedding trip to the north. Mrs. Phillips traveling in a smart sports costume of burnt orange silk sweater, white silk skirt and smart little white hat.

Upon their return they will reside in the pretty new home which Mr. Phillips has in readiness at the corner of La Veta avenue and Main street. A graduate of Santa Ana high school, Mrs. Phillips has a host of friends as has her husband, a native son, who has lived all his life in Orange, where he graduated from Orange Union high school. He is a member of the American Legion, having enlisted for service during the World War.

Eastern Star Party Yields Great Enjoyment for Guests and Hosts

"Never was there a pleasanter nor a merrier evening enjoyed at Masonic temple" today declared members of the Past Matrons' association and past patrons of Hermosa Chapter, O. E. S., who last night were guests of honor at a delightful party given by Hermosa chapter, and who today were still chuckling reminiscently over the merriment with which the evening came to a close.

Several weeks ago the invitations to the affair were issued by officers of Hermosa chapter, Mrs. Kate Cornelius, worthy matron and John A. Harvey, worthy patron. An enthusiastic acceptance followed from the honor guests, after Santa Ana chapter likewise included in the invitation.

Shasta daisies in great baskets, decked the chapter room where a large crowd gathered for the opening session which was followed by a withdrawal of the honor guests who later entered to the strains of a march as played by Miss Oahu Rose Kellogg, chapter organist.

Taking their places in the order in which they had served their chapters, the past matrons and past patrons were introduced by Mrs. Cornelius and Mrs. Harvey, and their chapter and date of service was given, followed by an enthusiastic reception from the members.

Those thus receiving honor were Mesdames Barker, Holmes, Huntington, Clayton, True Winbiger, Reinhaus, Thomas, Safley, Tope, Pease, Cavins, Tubbs, Ellis, Mitchell, Bomboy, Fenn, Moore, Peek, Hurlbut, Balderston, Mattie Whitson, McCormac, Reeves, Harvey and Kellogg and Miss Pauline Reinhaus, and Messrs. W. D. Fenn, Charles E. Moore, C. D. Brown, W. W. Cleveland, N. Zerman, Vern Whitson, Arthur Pease, G. R. Saffley, James T. Carter, Frank True, J. W. McCormac, James Thomas, W. Dean, Harvey, Elmer McJohn, Captain James M. Hall, Mayor John L. Mitchell, and Drs. Wehrley and L. L. Whitson.

Following the greeting accorded each one introduced, a basket of lovely carnations was given Mrs. Cornelius from the guests. Mrs. Barker, president of the Past Matrons' association making the presentation and also giving a cluster of equally beautiful and glowing red carnations to Mrs. George Balderston, two birthdays being thus observed. Mrs. Cornelius was further surprised by the gift of a crystal marmalade jar with silver cover and spoon, from the officers of Hermosa chapter, in celebration of her birthday which preceded the party by one day.

After short talks of appreciation were given by both celebrants, the program was placed in the hands of Mrs. Keith Beisel into whose charge it had been given when Mrs. A. N. Zerman was called to Salt Lake City recently. Mrs. Beisel introduced Eleanor Young Elliott who gave a monologue, "Sweet Kitty Bellairs" by Marjorie Benton Cooks. This was followed by a charmingly played piano duet by Miss Veda Mitchell and Miss Marcia Keeler. They gave "Sunflower Dance" to the pleasure of their hearers, who insisted that the young girls should repeat the pretty composition.

Mr. Whitson then responded to Worthy Patron Harvey's call and gave a pleasing little talk after which Mrs. Elliott brought the program to a close by giving a group of child impersonations.

The honor guests were escorted to the banquet room where they found an amazing assortment of toy balloons and whistles marking their places at the long tables. These were put into immediate use and the other members of the party took their places to the sound of martial music played on penny whistles. Under the directions of an efficient committee, the banquet room was cool and inviting with the same lovely colors used in dainty nut cups at the honor table and in the salad which was served with salt wafers, coffee and green mints.

Mirth and merriment indeed reigned supreme, and a general spirit of festivity was attributed by the past matrons, to the presence of the men guests, and by the past matrons. Suffice it to say, everybody had a wonderful time, not the least of the enjoyment being from the responses to toasts proposed by John A. Harvey and responded to by W. D. Barker with a most seriously presented sermon from the alphabet, and by Joseph P. Smith with an equally serious song, which fortunately, he was not allowed to conclude.

Eighty-second Anniversary Pleasantly Celebrated By Members of Family

To reach the eighty-second milestone is an experience that comes to comparatively few of the travelers on life's path, but that is the experience enjoyed by Mr. A. C. Mosher, 1522 Bush street, long a resident of this city, who recently was made the victim of a pleasant little surprise, honoring his eighty-second birthday.

This surprise took the form of a visit from his daughter, Mrs. W. T. Kirven and family of Garden Grove who joined him for the evening of his natal day. Photograph music and violin and piano selections enlivened the evening, the two granddaughters of Mr. Mosher, the Misses Katherine and Cynthia Kirven, furnishing the latter enjoyable numbers. A great birthday cake, after being duly admired, was cut and served with ice cream, as a happy conclusion to the evening.

Arriving in Santa Ana in 1887, Mr. Mosher has watched the growth of the city from that early small town, which has been instrumental in aiding the growth. Many of the public buildings of the city are included among those which he helped erect, among them the Washington school building which is soon to be razed and which was one of the first buildings upon which he worked.

Notwithstanding his splendid eighty-two years of life, Mr. Mosher is unusually hale and hearty and his friends are confident that their wishes for his continued health and happiness will be granted.

To Take Departure

Mrs. Globe P. Kennedy and two young sons, Ralph and Carl, of 1522 Bush street, plan an early departure for Los Angeles where they will make their home. Mrs. Kennedy has a certain reluctance to leave Santa Ana where she has many warm friends, but feels that the opportunities in the larger city will be greater. She has expressed herself as being deeply grateful to the many friends who sent such quantities of beautiful offerings at the time of her husband's death, and since the cards accompanying the flowers were in many cases removed and mislaid, would like those friends to know how much comfort their remembrances gave.

Berean Class

Berean class members of the United Presbyterian church, who were disappointed at the necessity of postponing their ham and eggs bake last week, will have the pleasure of the merry-making on Thursday night, June 22, at 7 p. m. They will motor to Orange county park for the affair.

Wedding In Early June Surprises Friends When Announced

Completely surprising their friends, Miss Ruth Truman of Tustin, and Ed. M. Hawkins of this city, today announced their marriage which was an event of June 5, at Ontario, Cal. On that date the young couple evaded all their friends with the exception of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hawkins, who were in the secret and motored with them to Ontario, where the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Paul E. Wright, pastor of the Christian church, and former local pastor.

Miss Truman wore a lively frock of pale-pink crepe de chine and carried roses. She has long been a resident of Tustin, where she was a popular member of the younger set.

Mr. Hawkins is in the employ of the Southern Counties Gas company and the young couple will make this city their home, welcoming their friends at 1060 West Fourth street.

Honeymooners' Return

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Kittle having returned from a wedding tour of the Yosemite and other California scenic spots, Mrs. Kittle, who was formerly Miss Grace Hall, has temporarily rejoined the office staff of County Clerk J. M. Backs, where she is receiving numerous congratulations.

Mrs. Kittle was well remembered with wedding gifts from her court-house friends. An electric percolator from Deputy Clerks Kenneth Morrison, Earl Abbey and A. L. Hitchcock, a sugar and cream set in Nippon ware from Mr. and Mrs. Backs, and a beautiful davenport table from the courthouse officials and employees were among the presents.

Ebell Travelers

Choosing Thursday, June 22, as the date for the final meeting of the year of the Fourth Travel section of Ebell club, the members will gather at 3 o'clock that afternoon with Mrs. C. P. Boyer at her Tustin avenue home.

Husbands of the members have all been invited to help dispose of the picnic supper which will be served at 6:30 p. m. and instructions have been given each member to bring silver, china and bread and butter sandwiches for her own group as well as one prepared dish.

Ladies' Aid Society

Southside section of the Aid society of the First Methodist church will hold the regular meeting, June 22 at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. P. E. Newman, 412 East Second street.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Robertson and family, 2630 North Main street, plan to leave tomorrow morning for a three weeks' outing in the Yosemite.

A. D. Paxton of Orange who is enjoying a Yosemite trip, will proceed to San Francisco from the park, to remain for several weeks' visit.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Youel and five young sons of 530 East Seventeenth street, left yesterday via the Santa Fe for St. Joseph, Mo., and points in South Dakota where they will visit relatives and friends for the next two months. Flanndreau, Sou. Dak., was their former family home.

Miss Mabel Mansur, 120 East Washington street, will leave tomorrow for a delightful summer trip, embracing visits in Iowa with Mrs. Minnie Gardner Clayton of Rockwell City, in Washington, D. C., with Miss Mildred Mansur and in Nantucket with Mrs. Folger. Salt Lake City, Chicago and other interesting cities will be visited on the east-bound trip while returning. Miss Mansur will visit Niagara Falls, thence take the new Canadian National route and go to Alaska ere returning to Seattle and thence down the coast home. In all the trip is expected to consume two months' time.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur N. Moss and son Jimmie of Vista, former residents of Ventura, are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. George Kilson at their home, 425 McFadden avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Moss are highly pleased with Santa Ana and its surroundings.

Under the name of "Characterie," Dr. Bright, a London physician, published a system of shorthand in 1858.

Sedgwick Social Club

At the last meeting of Sedgwick Social club it was voted to hold the next meeting, June 23, at the home of Conrade S. W. Sutton, 1015 Spurgeon street. There will be the regular luncheon served at twelve o'clock with brief business meeting to follow, and then the afternoon will be given to an entertaining program of readings, songs, and short speeches, games, and a "whisper" grab bag to which contributions are solicited of nickle value, articles for which owners have no further use. This feature is intended as a fun-maker as well as "mon" maker and nickle jokers will also be in order. The regular luncheon will be served on tables under the great trees and will be provided and served as is the Club's custom when at the hall.

"Amy Rolfe Silver Fund" Shiloh Circle Ladies of the G. A. R. will give a luncheon at twelve o'clock Thursday, June 22nd at G. A. R. hall for the purpose of contributing to the "silver fund" started by the late president, Mrs. Amy Rolfe. It was Mrs. Rolfe's ambition to secure silverware, dishes, and table linen for the society during her term of office by means of dinners, fairs, entertainments and food sales, and was planning the first dinner when the silent messenger called her from earth's activities. The ladies will endeavor to carry out the work as designed, and cordially invite their friends to co-operate by attending this luncheon and taking something for the table, of their choicest samples of home cooking. A good social time for all.

Change of Date Relief Corps ladies who were going to assist in the quilting bee to be held in G. A. R. hall Wednesday are hereby notified that the date has been postponed one week and that the quilting will be held next week.

Women's Alliance

Mrs. C. H. Stanley, president of the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church, will open her home at 1135 West First street, to the members of the organization for an all-day sewing tomorrow, June 21.

This meeting is a special one and will take the place of the regular afternoon meeting scheduled for next week. Much important sewing awaits the flying needles of the members, also plans must be made for the Unitarian picnic to be held at Bixby park, Long Beach, Saturday, July 1. Hence a full attendance is desired.

Find Kidnaped Pup After Wide Hunt

KIDDIES HAPPY AS 'COOTIE' IS HOME AGAIN

Cootie is home! Though covered with oil and emaciated as the result of hunger and hardships, he arrived home at Orange, with his bark as sharp as ever, his "coyote" ears perked, and his tail wagging like mad. Incidentally, his recovery was not without anxious hours yesterday for two youths of Brea. They were accused of having kidnaped the dog at Orange last Thursday night. One of them said the other fellow opened the door of the automobile and let the dog in, and the other fellow had the same tale about his friend.

J. P. Craemer, business manager of The Daily News, Orange, whose children own Cootie, half-dog and half-coyote, and one of the best dog playmates children ever had, rescued the dog about 10 o'clock last night.

Does Detective Work Yesterday Craemer went out on

3 Street Poles in Casualty List

Bumpers for all street poles as safeguards against straying automobiles was suggested today by City Marshal Sam Jernigan, as he scanned police records which showed that three poles in Santa Ana had been knocked down by cars within the past three days.

A machine, loaded with Los Angeles colored people, set the fashion early Sunday, when their driver indulged in highway somnambulism while the party was speeding down North Main street, headed toward Tia Juana. A gigantic telephone pole at Nineteenth street was the victim.

Two Edison poles joined the casualty list yesterday. One in the 800 block on North Sycamore was lopped off by a car driven by Mrs. F. H. Cloyes, 512 Orange avenue.

Miss Madeline Keech, 312 South Main street, took the other with her, while driving her car along South Main street.

"Mine driving was not responsible for the pole wreckage, the police made haste to explain. In both instances yesterday, the woman driver was forced into the poles by someone else. In one case it was to avoid a small boy on a bicycle. In another instance, a Japanese motorist caused the trouble, and landed in jail as a result.

But the poles seemed to be marked for slaughter unless some safeguard can be found, Jernigan said.

"The bumper idea sounds good to me," he said. "Another convenience," he added, "would be obligingly to spread cushions, feather mattresses, etc., within a short radius of the poles so that motorists may fall to earth comfortably."

a hunt for a new Chandler sports model car, in which the dog was known to have been abducted. Through a dealer, he obtained the name of the owner of the only car of the kind sold in the county recently.

With this information, Craemer, landed in Brea, and in the course of an hour every boy in Brea was out looking for Cootie, for Craemer had a $100 bill for Cootie's return.

The city marshal joined in the hunt.

Craemer faced the two youths, and from them he learned that when they arrived at Brea they turned Cootie loose to take care of himself.

Suspects Join Hunt Cootie was around the neighborhood until Sunday, and was seen no more there.

Craemer gave the two nervous youths an opportunity to find Cootie, and they lost no time in joining the army of "kids" in the search.

Late last night, Craemer received a telephone message by which Cootie was located on a farm between Brea and Glinda. A woman found Cootie Sunday evening wandering along a road near Richfield. She took him in.

Cootie has been busy greeting his friends at Orange. When not barking his approval, he has been busily engaged in eating, making up for lost meals.

WIDE SEARCH MADE FOR VANISHED MAN

Inclining toward the theory that Virgil A. Robinson, of Artesia, left his home while suffering a mental derangement, relatives and friends of the man today joined the authorities in pressing a search, confident that he would shortly be located.

Robinson, who was employed by the Standard Oil company on the Kramer lease near Placentia, disappeared Saturday. No trace of him has been uncovered since he was last seen walking along the highway between Northam and Norwalk.

A brother of Robinson, summoned from Taft, today visited the sheriff's office here, expressing the belief that Robinson must have been temporarily unbalanced in mind. The brother could ascribe his disappearance to no other cause.

Discovery of the oil worker's departure took place when he failed to meet his wife and daughter at the home of friends in Fullerton, where they had a dinner engagement Saturday evening.

FOOD IS DISTRIBUTED TO ACTORS IN MOSCOW BY AMERICAN RELIEF

LONDON, June 20.—Distribution of food packages provided by the recent Chauve Souris benefit in New York, has begun among Moscow actors, and hundreds of artists with hand carts or carrying sacks or boxes are crowding counters of the American relief administration food remittance department, located in the once famous Hermitage restaurant of Moscow. Each applicant gets 118 pounds of plain American food.

Among them are such distinguished artists as Soumbatov, Stanislavsky and Legkovskaya, names as well known in Moscow as Barrymore or Sothorn is in New York.

The cablegram received in London by the American administration conveying this information, says further that the price of the $10 package, if it could be put up for sale in Moscow at present, would be $3,000,000 rubles, more than three months' salary of the highest paid star.

Music Section

Members and friends of the Ebell Music section have received invitations to a delightful musicale to be given as the section's final meeting for the current club year, at the home of Mrs. Theo A. Imbigger, 207 East Ninth street, tomorrow evening, June 21, at 8 o'clock.

Mrs. Winbigler's lovely home is the chosen meeting place of the section of which she has been leader for a number of years. She recently declined the honor of serving again, but will continue to offer the hospitality of her home for the regular meetings.

A pleasing program has been arranged for tomorrow night, and will be followed by a social hour.

MILLIONAIRE IN BIG PROPERTY TRANSACTION

Involving a consideration approximating $200,000, papers were in escrow today transferring title to 411 acres in the Fairview district from J. A. Stevens, of Santa Ana, to M. H. Whittier, millionaire oil man, farm operator and philanthropist, of Los Angeles, according to Freeman H. Bloodgood, local realtor who engineered the big transaction.

Whittier was here today showing the property to his three sons, for whom, it is reported, he purchased the property. The property is what is known to old-time residents of this district as the Berry Ranch. It is situated on the east side of the Greenville road and extends south to the Newport boulevard from the point where the Greenville paved boulevard turns west leading through Fairview.

Near Palisades Road The east boundary of the ranch is near the point where the road to Balboa Palisades leaves the Newport boulevard.

It is understood that possibility of oil being developed in the immediate vicinity was not an influencing factor in the transaction. The new owner probably will develop the land into an alfalfa and dairy ranch, stocking it with blooded Holsteins. One of the sons will be manager, it was reported.

The purchase of the ranch by Whittier is pointed to as evidence that the millionaire has become impressed with the value of owning property in the vicinity of Santa Ana. It is anticipated that he will make improvements that will make the place one of note and attraction.

Whittier is well known throughout Southern California for various of his philanthropic activities. One of his principal interests is that of the McKinley Home in Los Angeles, which he virtually finances, it is said.

HUNTINGTON BEACH MAN, 91, DISAPPEARS

Search had been instituted by local and county authorities today for F. Colye, 91, of Huntington Beach, who was reported to have disappeared last night from his home.

The manner of direction of his departure was not learned, according to reports received here from City Marshal Jack Tinsley, of Huntington Beach.

Colye was said to be very feeble. He used a cane in walking, it was stated. When last seen he was wearing a suit of blue clothes.

WOODMEN SCOUT TROOP TO HOLD MEET TONIGHT

Members of Oak camp, Santa Ana lodge, Modern Woodmen of America, and the affiliated Boy Scout troop were today eagerly looking forward to the exercises at Birch park this evening, when high officials of the order will present the boys with axe equipment.

Chief Consul A. R. Talbot, of Rock Island, Ill., will make the presentation address, following an address of welcome by Mayor J. G. Mitchell.

Musical numbers by a Boy Scout troop and E. E. Newman, soloist of the First Presbyterian church, will be features of the exercises in the park.

Following these ceremonies, members and scouts will adjourn to James's gold room, where a dinner in honor of the consul will be held. W. E. Byers, of Los Angeles, president of the Boosters' association, Modern Woodmen of America, Southern California division, will deliver an address.

FEAR GIRL, BOY TOOK LIVES IN SUICIDE PACT

(By United Press Leased Wire)

PETALUMA, Cal. June 20.—A pretty, bobbed haired girl of 16, wearing a blue dress, brown hat and grey fur was sought here today by police and probation officers who believed she had committed suicide as the sequel to the suicide in Oakland, Calif., last night of Earl Elliott, 16-year-old high school student.

The girl's name was unknown. She appeared at 8 a. m. today at the home of Mrs. M. Elliott here and said she was tired and wished to rest. The girl soon left.

An hour later Mrs. Bazil found pinned to a towel in the bathroom a note addressed to B. Elliott, Oakland, Calif., father of Earl Elliott, which read:

"Don't blame Earl. I am going the same way."

Earl Elliott shot himself last night, for no apparent reason, leaving a note saying he could not live longer. Authorities believe it the tragic climax of a youthful romance which ended in a suicide pact.

DENY PREACHER NEW TRIAL FOR SLAYING

SACRAMENTO, June 20.—The conviction of John A. Spencer, former minister of Lake county, for the murder, August 31, 1921, of his wife, was today upheld by the third district court of appeals.

Spencer was accused of having strangled his wife. He claimed that she had fallen out of a boat in a lake and drowned.

The verdict of first degree murder was not an erroneous decision, the appellate court decreed. Spencer was sentenced to life imprisonment.

WILL DEBATE WATER, POWER PROPOSAL AT CLUB MEETING HERE

The proposed water and power act, to appear on the ballot in November as an initiative measure, is to be debated at the monthly meeting of the Men's club Thursday evening of this week. The meeting is to be at the guild hall of the Church of the Messiah at 6:30 o'clock.

H. B. Woodrough of Costa Mesa is to speak in favor of the measure, and Freeman H. Bloodgood, of Santa Ana, against it. Other features for the evening's program have been prepared, among them being a talk by James S. Rice concerning reminiscences of his boyhood days during the Civil War.

VOTE ON SCHOOL PROJECT TODAY AT EL MODENA

Residents of El Modena, bent on improving school conditions in that district, today were casting their votes in a $55,000 bond election, which, if approved, will provide a building capable of caring for expected school increases for several years.

Due to the growth of the community, additional school facilities are necessary, officials pointed out, and this can be accomplished, it is said, by the erection of a building so constructed that additional enlargements can be made from time to time.

"Need of a new school building is very apparent," said W. P. Reed, principal of the El Modena school. "Many of us are aware of the crowded conditions at the school. The enrollment the past year was 327. This is 40 per cent greater than two years ago."

"In order to care for the children, it has been necessary to put the pupils in the community room in the basement. This is poorly ventilated and the floors are of cement. With a much greater increase in attendance in prospect for next year more room must be provided."

If the bond issue is approved, a five-room building will be erected. The El Modena school was designated as the polling place.

BOY SLIGHTLY HURT WHEN CAR HITS HIM

ARMOR Main, a young boy who was riding a bicycle, was slightly hurt and an Edison company pole was knocked down by an automobile, in an accident on North Sycamore street, according to a report filed today at police headquarters by Mrs. F. H. Cloyes, driver of the machine.

The accident occurred in the 800 block late yesterday when Mrs. Cloyes, attempting to avoid the boy on the bicycle, allowed her car to cross the curb and strike the pole.

Although she was not entirely successful in evading the boy, the latter was not severely hurt.

CANDIDATES TO BEGIN DRIVE ON MONDAY

Candidates for county offices today were making plans for the circulation of their nomination petitions next week.

County Clerk J. M. Backs said that he has all of the necessary papers on hand, and any candidate who desires to start his petition next Monday morning may do so. Monday is the first day under the law on which petitions may be circulated.

To initiate a petition, the candidate must sign an affidavit declaring his intention to run, and at the same time he signs a paper naming some person or persons to circulate his petition.

Now is Perfunctory In this county the circulation of nomination petitions has come to be a perfunctory process. When nominations by petitions were first instituted, each candidate made out a selected list of those whom he desired to sign, and when the list was completed, in a number of instances, the entire list was published by the candidate as indicating his backing. This method, however, has its drawbacks, it was said. Some of the signatures were declared to have been only half-hearted, and by the time the list was published the signer might have made up his mind to be for another candidate.

Whatever the reason, the publication of the lists came into disfavor, and in more recent years the gathering of signatures has been put through with the least possible trouble to the candidate and his verification deputy.

When a petition is completed, it is filed with the county clerk, who checks every signature with the great register in order to make sure that the petition contains names of enough qualified electors.

The number of signatures, as computed by Clerk Backs, for candidates in this county is listed as follows:

For assemblyman: Republican, not less than 74 signatures, not more than 147; Democratic, minimum 30 and maximum 59; Socialist, 4 and 7; Prohibition, 44 and 87.

For all county offices: minimum, 93, and maximum 373.

For supervisor: second district, minimum 11 and maximum 45; fourth, 14 and 57; fifth, 9 and 39. Santa Ana township has a minimum of 31 and maximum of 124.

FORMER KLAN CHIEF OUT ON $5000 BAIL

(United Press Leased Wire)

LOS ANGELES, June 20.—William S. Coburn, again at liberty in the domain where he once wielded the invisible power of a grand goblin, today had nothing to dress up in and no place to go until August 7, the date fixed for his trial.

Coburn yesterday pleaded not guilty to the charges voted by the grand jury against him and thirty-six other klansmen, and furnished the $5000 bond ordered by Judge Houser. The court later announced that the $500 bail fixed for thirty-five others indicted must be doubled, the additional bonds to be posted not later than June 29. No change was made in the bail of Nathan A. Baker, who has been unable to raise $5000 and is held in jail.

Coburn said today that he would not leave Los Angeles again until after his trial. He said he was no longer an official in the klans but that he was still a member of the order and intended to remain so.

WIFE WINS DIVORCE, CUSTODY OF CHILD

An interlocutory decree of divorce, custody of her young son and an award of $25 a month for the child's support, had been granted by Superior Judge Z. B. West today to Lenore O'Neill, whose suit against John O'Neill was heard June 7. O'Neill's cross-complaint for divorce was denied.

GIRL HAD PAINFUL TIMES

Mothers—Read This Letter and Statement Which Follows

Portland, Indiana.—"I was troubled with irregularity and constipation and to lie down because of pains. One Sunday my aunt was visiting us and she said her girl's friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and got well, so mother said she guessed she would let me try it. It did me good and I praise it highly. You are welcome to use this letter as a testimonial."

—STELLA NEWTON, R. R. 8, Portland, Indiana.

Mothers—You should carefully guard your daughter's health. Advise her of the danger which comes from standing around with cold or wet feet, from lifting heavy articles, or overworking. Do not let her overstudy. If she complains of headache, pains in back or lower limbs, or if you notice a slowness of thought, nervousness or irritability on the part of your daughter, give her careful attention. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent medicine for your daughter to take, as it is especially adapted to relieve just such symptoms. Remember it contains nothing that can injure her.

LILLIAN GISH
As she appears in "Way Down East," coming to the Yost tomorrow for a return engagement of three days.

GOOD SHOW

Entertaining Bill at Yost Featured by Big-Time Vaudeville Acts.

BY FRANCES DEANER

Attractive colorful costumes are worn by the girls who provide entertainment on this week's bill of premier vaudeville at the Yost, but they are just minus, that's all, when compared with the gorgeous colors that are worn by Miss Merle's wonderful birds from the tropics.

The birds, a big array of them in their own cleverly-arranged setting, are a visual enjoyment from a picturesque viewpoint alone; but they are also good performers and, under the direction of Miss Merle, present a program of "stunts" that is interesting and delightful. What an infinite amount of patience and kindness it must take to educate the beautiful little fellows! And they appear to enjoy their own performances as much as the audience. This act, by the way, is touring the Orpheum circuit and due to a "split week" in the booking, Mr. Yost was able to bring it to Santa Ana.

Dave Goodman and the Turner sisters, also from the Orpheum, easily established friendly relations with the house. All sing and dance, Goodman, particularly, presenting a dance specialty that is especially clever. The act is snappy and is easily the highlight of the bill, aside from the birds.

Byron and Aileen in a song skit, "Planning a Bungalow," are easy to listen to and easier to look at. The lovely costumes worn by Miss Aileen. They found much favor with last night's audience.

Jean and Shayne, two girls in "a bower of melodies and music," one at the piano and the other with violin, are entertaining. One of the girls sings in a "double voice," which, if properly schooled, would be received with greater interest. The girls bring their own set and backdrop resembling a patchwork quilt. It serves as an effective mounting for the mid-Victorian costumes in which they close their act.

George Melford's cinema version of Frank Norris' story "Moran of the Lady Letty," provides the film feature.

Few stronger sea stories have been filmed. The leading characters are strikingly portrayed by Dorothy Dalton in the name part, Rodolph Valentino, as the pampered son of the idle rich, who is shanghaied in San Francisco. He is put aboard a pirate ship manned by Walter Long who in the role of Captain Kitchell is at his villainous best.

There is the tang of the sea in almost every foot of film in "Moran of the Lady Letty," which is a tale of adventure on the high seas off the coast of California and Mexico. And, of course, there is a love story, too.

Dorothy Dalton in the role of Moran, the girl who is born and brought up on the sea, is a primitive woman, free as the air and as vital. It seems odd at first to see her with the Buster Brown haircut but she brings to the part a conscientious forcefulness and betrays a womanly sweetness so real that one easily forgets the manlike make-up and follows the work of the artist.

Valentino, too, does some excellent work. If you did not like his work in "The Sheik"—a part he declares he fairly hated, and I don't blame him—your interest in his ability to really act will be restored if you see him in the role of Ramon Laredo. He does as clear-cut a bit of acting in the scene where he is drugged and shanghaied as has been seen here this season. And fight—he and Walter Long fight all over the pirate ship. It's a thriller.

The entire bill is to be repeated tonight at the Yost.

CORINNE GRIFFITH STARS IN FILM AT PRINCESS

"Island Wives," the Corinne Griffith production, which will be shown at the Princess theater tonight, was filmed in the South, mainly in the vicinity of Miami, Fla.

"Island Wives" was written by Bob Dexter and adapted to the screen by William B. Courtney. Its opening scenes are laid in Tahiti, an imaginary island in South Seas, and much of the action of the play takes place amid tropical surroundings. The locale of the story follows the peregrinations of Elsa Melton, who goes by private yacht from Tahiti to San Francisco and later from there to Australia, affording a wealth and variety of beautiful scenic backgrounds. Ideal locations for these have been found in Florida. The story is also spectacular, including a South Sea typhoon.

Miss Griffith was accompanied by a splendid supporting company, including Charles Trowbridge and Rockcliffe Fellows, who have the principal male roles. Webster Campbell, who directed Miss Griffiths in some of her greatest successes, directed the production.

MIRIAM KNOWS HOW!

Miriam Battista, who has an important part in "The Good Provider" now at the West End featuring Vera Gordon and Dore Davidson, is only nine years old, but she knows all the tricks of the motion picture studio. In "The Good Provider," Miriam plays the part of Pearl Binswanger when that character is a little girl. There is an affecting scene in which Pearl is ill and her father brings a rose, thinking to cheer her up.

When Mr. Davidson, as Papa Binswanger, entered with the bloom Miriam wept profusely.

"Why are you crying, Miriam?" asked Frank Borzage, the director. "Why," so you will give me a close-up," said the little actress. And she got it.

"The Good Provider," by Fannie Hurst and adapted by John Lynch, will be shown at the West End for the last time tonight. The theme of this compelling photo-drama is that of the respect and affection owed by children to their father.

YOST—Dorothy Dalton in "Moran of the Lady Letty," vaudeville. WEST END—Vera Gordon and Dore Davidson in "The Good Provider." PRINCESS—Corinne Griffith in "Island Wives." TEMPLE—Dark.

James Pies, Cakes, Cookies, and Bread. They are different.

RHEUMATISM

LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every Druggist in this country is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if a full pint bottle of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not show the way to stop the agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and pitiable and where the patient was helpless. Mr. James H. Allen, of Rochester, N. Y., the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of anyone's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed druggists to guarantee it as above in every instance.—adv.

NAVAL RESERVISTS PLAN NEW CRUISES

Naval reserve members in Orange county were interested in the announcement made today by Ensign Francis Westgate of Santa Ana that summer cruises for reservists have been resumed by the navy, with operations in the Southland centering at the submarine base at San Pedro.

Fifteen-day cruises are being arranged, the first to start July 15, with August 5 and 25 and September 15 scheduled as other dates.

Last year cruises were made to San Francisco and Seattle. As yet the destination of this summer's cruises have not been named, so far as it is known to Westgate.

He advises that reservists desiring to take advantage of the trips should file their applications at the United States Navy office at room 220 Byrne building, Los Angeles.

Sunday cruises, suspended last November, also have been resumed, and it is expected that a large number of Orange county men will join on a trip to be made next Sunday from the submarine base.

The cruise will be on Eagle 12, in command of A. H. Woodbine. It was announced that reservists going on this cruise will not be required to do any ship work and will have nothing to do but enjoy themselves. Men desiring to go on the cruise should report at the submarine base by 9 a. m. Sunday, Westgate said.

ACCUSED WOMAN DEFENDANT IN SUIT ON CAR

Legal entanglements surrounding Mrs. Betty Marks, of East Newport, thickened today with the addition of one more court action to those already filed against her.

Potter Bowles, Santa Ana automobile dealer, filed a civil suit for recovery of a car sold to Mrs. Marks; the same car, it is understood, that figured in a criminal charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, for which she is scheduled to be tried Thursday.

Bowles asks recovery of the car from Mrs. Marks, or judgment for $1,000, which, he alleged, represents its value. Bowles is represented by Attorney Ben E. Tarver.

The criminal charge against Mrs. Marks followed her arrest at Newport Beach some weeks ago, after it was alleged, she had wedged the car between two sets of piling beneath the S. P. viaduct, having, it was said, "missed" the driveway.

Subsequent to the criminal charge, which, if she is found guilty, might involve a penitentiary sentence, another civil suit, connected with property at East Newport, was instituted against Mrs. Marks.

The Bowles action is the latest to appear in the superior court.

Mrs. Marks will be represented at her trial on the felony charge Thursday by Attorney Clyde Bishop, of Santa Ana. She was recently held to answer by Justice J. B. Cox and is at present at liberty on bail.

JAPANESE IS NABBED AS RECKLESS DRIVER AS 2 CHARGES FILED

Troubles had multiplied today for K. Ida, Japanese, formerly residing at Garden Grove, but now at the county jail, where he must serve 50 days unless he can raise $50 as a fine, assessed late yesterday by City Recorder W. F. Heathman.

Ida drives an automobile and, according to two complaints filed against him, he drives it recklessly.

One complaint, filed by County Motorcycle Officer Vernon Myers, alleges that Ida drove his car on the wrong side of the highway at the intersection of the Anaheim and Garden Grove highways June 15.

The second complaint, on account of which Ida is now in jail, developed late yesterday after Ida's car, it was claimed, had forced Miss Madeline Keech, of Santa Ana, to drive her car over the curb and knock down an Edison pole.

Police Officers Lutz and Ryan arrested Ida after the accident, which took place on South Main street.

YOUR BRAIN AND ITS JOB

A brain wizard, Cheesley M. Hutchings, sits in a room at Harvard university. For three hours thirteen professors direct at him a rapid-fire of questions in the form of an examination in "Romance languages and literature."

Hutchings answers every question promptly, accurately.

It is such a phenomenal showing that the telegraph wires carry his victory to newspapers all over the country.

Hutchings, it is disclosed, is an expert in fifteen languages. That is interesting news, for most of us have difficulty handling one language.

Without disparaging Hutchings' admirable feat, few people need envy him, for the very simple reason that few people ever have occasion to use fifteen languages.

Life is short. The limited time available to the average person for study must be devoted largely to practical things.

Later, if automatic machinery frees man from slavery of muscles, concentration and time, purely intellectual or cultured pursuits will be desirable for all.

It used to be that all education was akin to pumping fifteen languages into the individual brain. Steadily we shift to the goal of teaching people how to find knowledge when they need it—where to look for it and how to understand it—rather than attempting to cram the brain with information rarely used.

If some one asks you where Liberia is, it affords a thrill to be able to answer. More important is the ability to know how to ascertain Liberia's geographical location quickly, when there is occasion to use the information.

Obviously, there are exceptions, the greatest being science. No man can get into his brain too much knowledge about astronomy, biology, psychology, dimensional mathematics and other forms of original truth.

Those are the great messages worth receiving and retaining. Language is merely the box that holds them. Still we can't get along without the box.

Thinking comes with knowledge. But the ability to think and to locate information when it is needed is more valuable than having the brain cluttered with what, for all practical purposes, is useless information.

This is materialistic philosophy. But it's a material world.

TOM SIMS SAYS

If we asked as many questions as Edison we would know everything. Money talks. It usually says "No."

Only thing some people are saving for a rainy day is daylight. Another movie star is in trouble. As usual, he acted without thinking.

LAW TO MUZZLE CRIME NEWS FROWNED UPON BY S. A. MEN

Nelson and Ex-Prosecutors of County Give Opinions
On Subject

UP TO PAPERS, VIEW
Attempt at Legislation Is Seen as Too Palpably
Hampering Press

The district attorneys of California, who at Placerville today swung into the second day's sessions of their twelfth annual convention, will frown upon any attempts to muzzle the press with regard to publication of news relative to criminal investigations and prosecutions.

That is, they will, if views expressed here today by District Attorney A. P. Nelson of Orange Co. and three former district attorneys of the county may be taken as a criterion.

Nelson was unable to attend the pressure of duties here.

One of the subjects scheduled to come before the district attorneys at their annual meeting is:

"Should the State of California Forbid the Publication of Interviews From Persons Under Sentence of Felony?"

Another is:

"What is the Proper Place for the Public Press in the Investigation of Crimes and the Prosecution of Persons Accused of Crime?"

Up to Papers, View

Regulation of these matters, if any is needed, should be left to the newspapers themselves to work out; any attempt at state legislation in this regard would savor too much of an inclination to hamper the freedom of the press—this was the consensus among those who were interviewed here.

"Publication of interviews from persons under sentence of felony would seem to me not to be especially objectionable," District Attorney Nelson said. "They would not appear to work to the detriment of the defendant."

"On the other hand, it is my opinion that publication of statements from persons accused of crime but who have not been tried, might have tendency to jeopardize their interests. Such interviews should therefore be limited—not, however, by means of laws. Rather should they be limited through mutual understanding on the part of the newspapers themselves."

"As to the place of the press in the investigation of crimes, I can see no necessity for state legislation to govern this."

Finds Co-operation

"I have always found the newspapers more than willing to co-operate. Furthermore, it has been my experience that whenever the work of bringing a criminal to justice was likely to be subverted by premature publication of facts in connection therewith, the papers have always snubbed publication, provided a good and valid reason could be given therefore."

Interviews from former district attorneys of Orange county follow:

R. V. Williams, judge of Department Two, Orange county Superior court—There isn't anything to the first question. The only possible objection I can see to publication of interviews with felons under sentence is the notoriety given the accused. He sometimes is made a hero by

SCOUTS PREPARE FOR BIG MEET AT NEWPORT

Old Man Neptune and the Orange County Boy Scouts, 600 strong, were prepared for a fine old frolic tomorrow.

This frolic is going to be called the First Orange County Boy Scout council aquatic meet, but, from indications, it isn't going to be so dignified as the name would indicate.

According to present plans, developed by Scoutmaster A. J. Twist of the Newport troop, the affair is going to be just a good swim, with plenty of competition and fun mixed in. Incidentally, it is going to train the lads in the life-saving methods which are fundamental to the code of the organization.

Prepare For Invasion.

So citizens of Newport Beach were preparing with more than usual interest for the invasion of the khaki clad columns. While the beach there is always popular with swimmers, it is seldom if ever that so many young athletes are seen there at once.

The activities are scheduled to start at 11 a. m. when a boat ride around the bay will be the entertaining feature. At noontime a basket lunch will provide the essentials of life.

After a short rest, the fun will start. A swimming class for those who cannot swim will be maintained under competent supervision, and more strenuous events for those who are skilful in the art.

Races, fancy diving contests, boat races, and other amusements will be given.

SIGHT RANCHER WHO FLED FROM CO. HOSPITAL

Placencia Is Glimpsed In Hills Near Mission Town
As Officers Puzzled

Fred B. Tuffree, Placencia rancher, who is charged with insanity, was back today at the county hospital, whence he escaped last Friday. Under Sheriff E. E. French and Deputy Lester Crowl returned shortly before noon from El Cajon, San Diego county, bringing Tuffree with them. He was located near that place at the home of a friend who lives in the hills about 22 miles east of San Diego.

Is Fred Tuffree a dangerous maniac roaming the hills near San Juan Capistrano?

Or is he making his way, with cool calculation but with slow caution, toward the Mexican border, as he threatened to do before his recent escape from the Orange county hospital, where he was held as an insane patient?

These two questions were pondered today by the local authorities, since officers searching for the fugitive Placencia rancher caught a brief glimpse of Tuffree in the hills near the mission town.

The transient contact with the man occurred late Saturday, it was learned here today from the officers who had returned after scouring that section of the county.

Disappears in Brush.

Tuffree scuttled into the brush and was gone in a moment, they said. They caught no further sight of him and were unable to pick up his trail.

While awaiting an examination as to his sanity, Tuffree, who was in a cell at the county hospital, made his escape last week. Previously he had declared that he intended just such a move as he made and threatened that he would strike for the Mexican border, never to return.

Hidden domestic troubles were said to have been hinted at by Tuffree, whose ordinarily lucid mental state was, he admitted himself, upset by occasional attacks of insanity. He claimed, according to the authorities, that his troubles were responsible, and that he believed he would recover his normal mentality if he could put everything behind him.

Bound For Border.

Officers trailing him after his escape, therefore, worked on the clue that he was bound for the border. Saturday they came upon his camp in the hills near El Toro, but Tuffree was not found. The officers seized some of his personal effects at the camp.

Pressing forward, they were in the vicinity of San Juan Capistrano when Tuffree suddenly appeared some distance away and, taking one quick glance toward them, as suddenly vanished in the brush.

Time was expected soon to answer the question of whether Tuffree is a wandering maniac or a sane fugitive. If the former is the case, it is expected that he may reappear in the Orange county hills. If not, it was believed that he will travel steadily southward until he apprehends or until he crosses the Mexican border.

LAY PLANS TO RAKE
IN AMERICAN CASH

LONDON, June 20.—London shoppers are expecting a season far more brilliant than any since the war. It is expected that more money will be spent here this year than for many years past, and many are the plans being made to capture as much of it as possible by entertainments of various sorts.

In Charing Cross road London is planning the biggest dance hall in the world. This will have accommodations on one floor for 1600 dancers and balcony space for 1000 spectators. Eighty women and 25 men will be engaged to teach dancing, while three bands, two English and one American, will provide the music.

For the other side of the picture the Bishop of Peterborough has proposed that his every hall room and on every dinner table during the season a box be placed labelled "For the Fellowship of Britain" in which contributions could be received "for the many thousands in this country who often do not know where the next meal is to come from."

ANITA BALDWIN ENTERS SPEED BOAT CONTEST

Heiress' Sle Sled Newest Addition to Balboa Motor Craft Fleet

Signalizing a marked acceleration of the battle royal among the well-to-do motor boat speed enthusiasts of Newport and Balboa, Anita Baldwin, wealthy Pasadena heiress to the estates of the late E. J. ("Lucky") Baldwin, had added to her love of fine horses and dogs a love of developing record-breaking water craft.

This became known today when details of Mrs. Baldwin's sea sled, now at the plant of the Newport Harbor Marine Corporation, Balboa, were received here.

The sea sled is described as one of the oddest-appearing crafts that has been in Newport harbor for some time.

It is the type of boat known as a "Hickman sea sled" and was built for Mrs. Baldwin at Seattle.

Freight Costs

She used it as a pleasure boat at Lake Tahoe for some time and it was shipped from there to Balboa in an automobile car.

Indicating Mrs. Baldwin's willingness to forget all about expenses when entering into any sort of contest, it was stated that the cost of shipping the sea sled from Lake Tahoe in the automobile car was $375.

In spite of its odd appearance, it is also a good-looking craft and is attracting much attention due to the unusual lines of its construction as seen while out of the water.

It has a concave bottom that produces the effect of an air-cushion and enables the boat to ride more smoothly on rough waters.

The surface propellers are so placed that one-half of the blades are out of water, similar to the propellers on Dustin Farnum's speed boat, "Miss Los Angeles."

Double runners are fastened on the sides of the boat, near the stern.

38 Miles Per Hour Speed

The boat is said to have a speed of 38 miles an hour, which makes it a swifter than all other craft in the harbor, except the two Hurricanes.

Motorboat fans of Southern California in general and of Orange county in particular are watching with exultant interest Mrs. Baldwin's entry into the speed craft competition.

In this connection was recalled the spirit with which the well-known Pasadena woman followed in the footsteps of her famous father in taking care of her stable of thoroughbred horses, of which she still owns a considerable string.

Mrs. Baldwin may be expected to leave no stone unturned in developing a speed boat that can compare with the best of the best of them at Balboa, it was stated.

LOCAL MUSICIAN TO TOUR WITH MEMBERS OF SASLAVSKY TRIO

Plans for an October concert tour of the coast as pianist with the Saslavsky Trio today had been perfected by Clarence A. Gustlin, vice-president of the State Federation of Music Clubs, following his visit to San Francisco, in company with Mrs. Gustlin and the latter's mother, Mrs. Martha Medlock.

The party made the trip by motor and returned Sunday night to this city after having been guests of Mrs. Medlock's brother, Dr. A. L. Adams and Mrs. Adams of Berkeley. One of the pleasant social events of their visit was a dinner at the home of Professor and Mrs. Tracy Crawford of the University of California, where they were greeted by Mrs. Crawford's mother, Mrs. C. A. Young, wife of a former pastor of the First Christian church of Santa Ana.

Board meetings of the State Federation of Music Clubs were held during the two weeks, resulting in appointment of chairman and directors for various departments. Mr. Gustlin and Mrs. Lillian Birmingham, president of the federation, plan a tour of the state shortly after the opening of the fall season, in an endeavor to bring the state organization into closer personal touch with the various communities.

On the return trip, the Santa Anans stopped at El Monte, Monterey, Paso Robles and Atascadero, where they met Miss Lena Catherine Shepard, former head of the high school music department here.

BIG ORIENTAL HOTEL
INTERESTS IN MERGER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 19.—J. H. Taggart, managing director of the Hongkong and Repulse Bay hotels on Hongkong Island, has recently acquired controlling interest in the Shanghai Hotels company, according to word received from the Orient by Edward Roberts, assistant manager of the Palace. Among the hotels in China which will come under the direction of Taggart as a result of the deal are Astor House and the Palace Hotel in Shanghai. Taggart is well known in San Francisco hotel circles.

CHANDLER IS 'PIPER'

Virus Expected to Weaken
Rodents, Change Them
Into Cannibals

Introducing W. W. Chandler, city sanitary inspector, as the piper of Santa Ana.

Introducing also the city's rat colony, estimated to have a citizenship of 20,000.

Chandler began his pippings today. The rodents are scheduled to answer his sweet call within twenty-eight days, after which Santa Ana is expected to be ratless.

As Chandler makes his rounds from store to store here today he was not wearing the strange garb made famous by the siren of Hameelin.

Not Even a Harp

He didn't even have a jews-harp to enthrall his victims.

But he chuckled to himself. His musical instrument was a little round bottle of rat virus intended to do all manner of things to rodents, which, complaints say, have overrun the city.

The hymn of death for rats will start next Saturday night, when all local business houses will lay the trap.

Chandler says the United States government estimates the rat population is equal to the human population of any community.

Basing his statistics on the federal estimate, "Piper" Chandler says that within a week there will be 5000 cases of pneumonia in Santa Ana—among the rats.

Rats Get Pneumonia

For the rat virus, he says, produces a malady similar to pneumonia and results in death in between fourteen and twenty-eight days.

"Infected with this disease," Chandler said, "the rats will seek the open air to die."

"Then ensues the second plague for the rodent citizenship. It is a well known fact that rats are cannibalistic in their habits."

"Those that first succumb to the virus, being weak from disease, are attacked by their fellows and devoured. In this manner the malady is transmitted from one to another."

"I hope to visit every business house in Santa Ana this week and get all to join in the campaign."

Lay Medicine Saturday

"We will lay the first medicine, which is harmless to all animals except rodents, on Saturday night and follow it with a second dose the following Saturday."

Chandler declared that he is empowered by state law to enforce the rat-killing campaign throughout the city and to prosecute those who do not comply with regulations.

"I do not wish to take such steps," he said, "it would be much better if this were a volunteer movement. There never have been so many rats in the city. It is a serious condition and something must be done."

REV. KENNEDY IS SILENT AS TO HIS PLANS

The formal resignation of the Rev. J. G. Kennedy as pastor of the United Presbyterian church here will be placed in the hands of the church board soon after the summer conference of the Synod of California, to be held July 5-10, at the Palisades, Santa Monica, it was learned today.

The Rev. Mr. Kennedy's announcement last Sunday that he intended resigning his pastorate here continued to be the topic of conversation among many of the members of his congregation.

It is expected that the resignation will not take effect until early in the fall, the pastor having given notice in advance so that his congregation might have time to choose his successor.

The Rev. Mr. Kennedy said today that he was not ready to disclose his plans for the future and would not make them known until later.

He is looking forward to the summer conference with considerable interest in anticipation of a successful conference.

Men and women prominent in the church organization of the East will participate in the program. Among them will be Miss Emma Milligan, educational secretary of the Foreign Missions board; Dr. J. D. Rankin, of the Pittsburgh, Pa., Theological seminary, representing the Freedmen board; Dr. J. M. Blackwood, representing the Home Missions board, and Dr. W. I. Wishart, of the Bible Extension board, who will direct Bible study at the conference.

The quarterly communion services of the local church will be held Sunday, July 2.

LAW TO MUZZLE CRIME NEWS IS FROWNED UPON

Newspapers publishing interviews with him. The question as to the proper place of the press with reference to investigations of crime is a big one and there is a great deal that can be said for and against newspaper investigations. Newspaper men have been valuable in many big crimes in uncovering evidence valuable both to prosecution and defense. The greatest evil comes in overdoing the publication of investigations by newspaper reporters. Often sensational newspapers try an alleged criminal and pronounce judgment, as it were, in advance of court trial. The press, however, should not be muzzled, but should eliminate sensationalism in handling details of a case in advance of the trial of an accused.

L. A. West—I can see nothing detrimental to the public to publish interviews with a man after he is convicted of a crime. I have my doubts about the advisability of the press publishing matters concerning a criminal prior to his conviction. To attempt, however, to prevent it by law would appear as interfering with the freedom of the press. The press could perform a great public service by regulation within rather than by legislation.

S. M. Davis—Persons under sentence have little or no influence and anything the say on any question has no weight, therefore I can see no object in quoting a convicted man, although no particular harm can result, so far as I can see. The press is one of the greatest agencies we have in tracking crime and criminals and forming public opinion. It wields a tremendous influence. Where its investigations are made in the interest of justice the general public is benefited. However, where they are made and used in advance of a trial for the purpose of putting an accused behind the bars more for personal reasons than for the benefit of the public, they are harmful to the general scheme of justice.

District Attorney Thomas Lee Woolwine of Los Angeles is scheduled to participate in the discussions at Placerville on how to handle "The Slobber Defense," and "Police Systems in Our Counties." Governor Stephens and Associate Justices Sloane and Shurtleff were among the other speakers.

The convention is scheduled to close Thursday.

COUNTY'S BOOST BODY LACKING MEETING BID

What community in Orange County will entertain the Associated Chambers of Commerce at its June meeting?

This question today was uppermost in the minds of C. L. Crumrine, president, and J. C. Metzgar, secretary.

For the first time in many months the Associated Chambers was without an invitation to hold its regular monthly meeting at some community in the county.

The regular meeting falls on Wednesday evening of next week. If an invitation is not received before Thursday of this week, the June meeting will be postponed, Crumrine announced.

Secretary Metzgar declared that no big question is to come up for discussion at the June meeting. It is possible, however, should a meeting be held, that something will develop to make the meeting one of interest.

GOAT GLANDS

As a Health Restorative
One of the most intriguing subjects today is the use of goat glands in the treatment of disease.

For several years there has been much work done in the transplantation of different animal glands, but those of the young healthy goat are preferred.

The most gratifying results have been obtained in apparently hopeless cases as well as in well-known conditions, such as locomotor ataxia, chronic constipation of the aged, general debility, chronic rheumatism and allied diseases. However, it is impossible to discuss the scope of its benefits in a limited space, but E. E. Selleck, Ph. B. M. D., who is specializing in the nonoperative goat gland treatment, may be consulted at the Lankershim Hotel, Suite 418, mornings from 9 to 12:30, afternoons and evenings by appointment—Adv.

MAKE PLANS FOR BIG CROWD AT CARNIVAL

TUSTIN, June 20.—With all plans completed, interest centers here today on the annual street dance and carnival to be held here next Friday night under the auspices of the Knights of Pythias.

Plans include provisions for the largest crowd ever assembled at a Tustin street dance, interest manifest in the enterprise by persons in all parts of Orange county being the basis for the preparations.

The dancing area is to be the full width of Main street between C and D streets, or a dancing "platform" 40 by 250 feet. This space is to be closed to traffic early Friday morning when it is to be thoroughly cleaned. When it is sufficiently dry 100 pounds of borax spangles are to be sprinkled over the surface. After that a volunteer army of small boys is to be permitted to slide and glide over the street to their heart's delight, thus rubbing the borax into asphalt to produce a smooth floor for the dancers.

Seats are to be placed about the four sides of the dance area and it is the plan to provide seating capacity for the crowd expected. The Knights are to convert their hall into dressing and rest rooms for the women.

Chapman eight-piece orchestra is to provide the music and a stand is to be erected on the sidewalk in front of the post office building.

Myriads of colored lights are to be festooned over the streets, interwoven with flags and vari-colored bunting. Various booths, under the auspices of Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts, Dana Lamb, scoutmaster, and the Knights of Pythias also will be similarly decorated.

The Scouts are to use the net proceeds of their booth for their summer camping fund and the Knights of Pythias are to devote their proceeds to their charity and social service funds.

WASHINGTON'S CREW AFTER EAST'S SCALP

Atlantic Coast Experts Are Worrying As West Seeks Rowing Honors

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

NEW YORK, June 20.—Anything that comes from the Far West nowadays causes Eastern athletes to get ready for a fall.

After having the two crack classics taken to the coast by the California team the East is getting the notion that the Washington crew might sneak up from behind in the intercollegiate rowing championship at Poughkeepsie Monday and deliver another rabbit crack on the neck.

When the ice was first cracking in the Hudson last spring the critics were willing to hand the championship to the great eight from the naval academy, which has won about every honor in American and European waters.

The same opinion held until the reports trickled down from Ithaca that Cornell had another wonderful crew, and a Cornell crew always means something.

Meanwhile the coast menace sprung up in the University of Washington crew, with an eight which defeated California for the championship of the Pacific coast. The California crew, which went down to such a decisive defeat, is said to be on a par with the eight that finished second last year at Poughkeepsie.

Washington came east and toyed with the Wisconsin crew in a practice race and then went on to Poughkeepsie, where the experts looked them over and passed on them as a promising looking outfit. Instead of being a formality in which the navy would go the distance for official purposes only, the intercollegiate regatta looked like a great three-cornered battle in which the Navy, Cornell and Washington have a chance for the honors.

AMERICANS LEAD IN BRITISH GOLF MATCH

Hutchison Breaks Course Record In 18 Holes of Qualifying Round

(United Press Leased Wire)
SANDWICH, England, June 20.—Joe Kirkwood, Australia, took the lead among the early players today in the second day of the qualifying round of the British open golf championship.

Playing over the difficult St. George's course, the Australian turned in a 72, which gave him a total of 147.

Jim Barnes, American open champion, the first of the Americans to go around today, also did the course in 72, which gave him a card of 154 for the two days.

The two courses were swept by a stronger breeze than prevailed on the opening day, but it was perfect golfing weather.

Jock Hutchison, last year's champion, finished his first 18 holes yesterday at the top of the heap. He turned in a 71 over the Prince's course, establishing a new record.

Joe Kirkwood, Australian champion, took a 75.

The tournament brought out an entry list of 225 and of this number 80 will qualify for the championship fight.

The Americans taking part are Hutchison, Walter Hagen, Barnes, and G. E. Van Vleet. The latter turned in a card of 90 yesterday and is the only American not likely to go further.

SUSPENDS RUTH FOR CLASH WITH UMPIRE

(United Press Leased Wire)
CHICAGO, June 20.—Babe Ruth, premier swatsman of the American league, was suspended for three days by President Ban Johnson today following an altercation with Umpire Dineen at Cleveland yesterday.

President Johnson, in announcing the suspension, declared he had not as yet decided what fine would be imposed on Ruth.

This will be decided later today or tomorrow, he said.

Here Are Heroes of Yesterday's Battles

Yesterday's Hero—Peters, a young pinch hitter, smacked a home run in the ninth with two on and gave the Phils an 8 to 6 victory over the Cubs.

Mostly tripled in the eighth and drove in two runs, enabling the White Sox to beat the Senators, 2 to 0.

Detroit made it seven in a row by downing the Red Sox, 11 to 9. Pratt hit a homer in the eighth with two on. After making ten consecutive hits, Heilman failed in the fourth inning.

Babe Ruth hit his seventh homer and was later kicked out of the game. The Yanks made it eight losses in a row by dropping before the Indians, 4 to 2.

Earl Smith drove in three runs with a double and a homer but the Giants lost to the Cardinals, 5 to 4.

Jimmy Johnston singled in the fourteenth inning, went to second on Griffith's sacrifice and scored on When's single, the Robins beating the Pirates, 6 to 5. The Robins tied the score with four runs in the ninth.

McManus singled in the seventh inning and brought Tobin in from second with the tally that gave the Browns a 3 to 2 win over the Athletics.

Molla Keeping Mum While Waiting for Clash With Suzanne

BY CHARLES M. McCANN

(United Press Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, June 20.—With a "wait and see" attitude Mrs. Molla Mallory, the American tennis champion, has relapsed into a fighter's grim silence on the eve of a battle.

Although all London is talking about the prospects of a Mallory-Leften duel in the British championships next week, Mrs. Mallory is saying nothing to give the gossip food for talk because she has been instructed to keep silence.

"I have received instructions from America to smile sweetly and say nothing," Mrs. Mallory told the United Press today. "I can't smile sweetly, but I can refrain from talking."

The American woman refused to affirm or deny that the instructions came from the United States Lawn Tennis association, but this is thought unlikely as she made the trip over "on her own" and is not officially the representative of the United States association.

She only laughed when asked if her husband had ordered her to do her fighting on the courts.

WILLARD PREPARING TO BATTLE DEMPSEY

(United Press Leased Wire)
LOS ANGELES, June 20.—Jess Willard, convinced that he will be given a chance to come back for the heavyweight title, will start training here next week, he announced today.

Willard yesterday made arrangements at the invitation of Roy Marshall, manager of the Hollywood Post arena, to make his training quarters at the post, and will probably take his first workout Monday, it was learned today.

Willard said that his terms for a bout have been settled with Tex. Rickard—long ago, and that it was up to Jack Dempsey and Jack Kearns to finish the process of making the match. He declared he could be ready to go into the ring with Dempsey any time in October.

COUNTRY CLUB SITE SEEKERS TO REPORT

George B. Shattuck, secretary of the Orange County Country club, yesterday mailed out notices to club members announcing a meeting for Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Saint Ann's Inn for the purpose of hearing the report of the special committee appointed some time ago to investigate the possibility of new club quarters.

The committee has been working diligently on the matter and it is probable that some concrete plan will be announced at tomorrow's meeting.

OSAGE INDIANS PLAN COLONY IN MEXICO

EL PASO, Tex., June 20.—President Oregon of Mexico informed Chief Wahre-she of the Osages and four leading tribesmen that he approved their plan to found a colony in Mexico for American Indians now residing in the United States, if they would comply with Mexican laws, according to Benito Rodriguez, first chancellor of the Mexican consulate, who accompanied the Indians to Mexico City recently.

"The chief, his head tribesman and members of their families were received by President Oregon for a conference that lasted several minutes," said Rodriguez.

For the YOUNG PEOPLE

CINDERELLA

GRACE'S family was talented. There was her brother, Andy, who could fiddle beautifully—only he didn't like you to call it fiddling; and there was Betty who could draw anything from a landscape to a robin, and Artie, who sang in the choir at the big church, and Dot, who recited. Grace was the only untalented one of the crowd.

"But Grace is my dear little helper," Mother said, and that was lovely, still sometimes the "little helper" wished that she was talented too.

Andy and Artie were always studying music so hard they never had time for the little chores boys usually do for their mothers. If there was any hammering or sawing to be done, Grace had to get busy; as for dishwashing and house-work, Dot and Betty simply scorned such low-brow tasks. But Grace often thought they didn't know what they were missing. Mother made things so interesting and when they worked together it was a perfect lark.

Grace was next to the oldest, still if there was a party or something, she always had to take a back seat; and it was a good thing, too, she often thought, because if she hadn't been un-talented, who would fix up the refreshments and pass them around, and get the house ready for company?

It was after her birthday party. Betty had decided to have the party and she told Grace just what to fix to eat and when to serve it and everything, and when the guests arrived they were all Andy's friends, or Artie's, or Betty's, or Dot's. Somehow Grace's friend, Marion Day, had been forgotten. Grace hadn't liked that.

Andy played and Artie sang and Betty showed her latest drawings and Dot recited. Even the grown-ups came to listen and praise. Only Grace flitted about unnoticed—except for Mother. Indeed, some of the guests hardly spoke to her. But she didn't mind that. It was forgetting Marion Day which made her cross.

"I mustn't be disagreeable and spoil their fun," she thought, after she'd put all the feast on the table and given Andy the sign to bring everybody in. "But they'd never miss me if I slipped away now."

So as soon as everybody was served, Grace left the party, slipped out the back door and ran to Marion's. "Marion," panted the visitor, "they're having a birthday party over at our house and didn't invite you, so I wouldn't stay."

"Whose birthday?" inquired Marion. "I don't expect Andy or any of the rest of them to invite me, I'm sure."

"It was my birthday party," sighed Grace. "But they're all so clever except me. I never count at all no matter what day it is—though I don't care. Only they might have invited you, Marion."

"They?" replied Grace. "Why didn't you do it?"

"Well, you see," explained Grace. "Betty was tending to that. I had to look after the eats and fixing up the house and things like that. It kept me in a rush all day yesterday."

Marion straightened out and looked at her friend.

"Why?" she cried. "You're a Cinderella! Isn't that exciting! Something grand will be sure to happen to you! It always does to Cinderella."

Marion was real excited, and even Grace felt a warm little glow in her girl and smiled.

"Right, you are, my love!" she said. "Make a wish, quick!"

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear!" Grace exclaimed. "I—I—let's see. I'm only Cinderella and not clever, but the rest of them have lots of wishes."

"But haven't you any?" asked the godmother.

"Yes, please I—," began Grace, when the swing door flew open and her mother came in briskly.

"Oh, there you are!" the lady cried. "I was worried about you, honey. Where have you been? Well, never mind. Come and kiss Aunt Sarah from China—Good lands!"

For Grace suddenly noticed that the fairy godmother had a comb in her hand and was knotting up her hair, and she was so confused and am" she was thinking.

"How can I ever, ever make up with Aunt Sarah now?" For Aunt Sarah was a very rich, and supposedly cross, maiden aunt of Grace's mother's. She had never visited the family before having lived in China for years. Grace just felt terrible to think how rude she'd been.

She was sitting on the edge of her little bed thinking, when the door-knob softly turned and Mother peeped in. Mother's jolly face was all red as if she'd been laughing hard, or else crying. She beckoned to Grace mysteriously. Grace hurriedly put on her old shoes and followed her downstairs and into the living room, where all the family and guests were sitting.

As they came in, the door at the other side of the room opened and Aunt Sarah came in with her hair down and a beautiful white shawl wrapped around her. She looked like a fairy godmother!

"I am looking for a foot that will fit this shoe!" she cried, holding up "Oh dear!" exclaimed Grace. "It's mine!"

"Ah, Cinderella!" cried Aunt Sarah. "Let us try it on."

Everybody looked curious as the shoe was tried on. It fit, of course. Grace blushed because she wasn't used to being noticed.

"Well, well, upon my word!" cried the fairy godmother. "The slipper fits. That settles everything. Cinderella is not Cinderella but a Princess! Now, Princesses should travel and see the world. I am leaving tomorrow for Europe, Asia and Africa. We shall see wonderful things, wonderful things. Never mind about packing. We shall get you new clothes."

"Bu-but—Mother," began Grace. "Who'd help Mother?"

"You'll be back in the fall," said Aunt Sarah.

Betty hurriedly came forward. "Grace!" she whispered. "It's a wonderful chance! You go on. I'll take care of Mother, so will Dot."

"Of course, we will!" Andy exclaimed indignantly. "You never asked us to do anything. We're crazy to help her."

So then it was decided that Grace should accept her aunt's kind offer and she ran over to tell Marion. But Marion wasn't surprised a bit.

"There! Didn't I tell you?" she said.

heart as she sped homeward. When she reached her back door she stopped and rubbed her eyes. Was she dreaming? For through the open door she saw a stranger—an old lady with long white hair hanging down her back.

"My fairy—godmother!" Grace gasped, before she knew what she was saying. "Oh, it can't be true!"

The lady turned and saw the little ashamed at her mistake, that she just darted off through another door to the back stairs and raced like mad for her room. Her party slippers, though, were not made for running in. Just as she reached the stairs one of them slipped off and rolled down into the kitchen. Grace never stopped to get it.

The LAST DAY of SCHOOL

DING goes the bell on the last day of school. Pack up the Speller and 'Rithmetic, too.

Good bye to lessons and farewell to rule.

Out from the school house high up on the hill

Laughing the children trip over the sill

For school days are over, vacation is here

And lessons are done till the fall of the year.

All the outdoors now is calling to you. All the green meadows and woodlands so cool

Seem to invite you this last day of school.

No wonder the pupils run out with such noise

For vacation's a time loved by all girls and boys.

KEEPING HIS PROMISE

Jack's voice quivered with eagerness. "Can't I mother?"

"Nixie-nix. What do seven-year-old kids like you want at a picnic—you'd only be in the way," growled Billy.

"O mother, please! It's going to be great," continued Jack—taking no notice of Billy's opinion—"Games, eats, prizes and everything—you said I could go if the younger boys did."

Mother looked at the pleading little face.

Well, dear, if Billy will promise to see after you, I think, perhaps you can

The HANDY BOY AT HOME
BY CHARLES A. KING.
STATE NORMAL SCHOOL, PLYMOUTH, N.H.

It is quite likely that this convenient device will be used more frequently in the home to heat small quantities of water in cases of emergency than in a camp, though it is especially adaptable for the latter purpose as it may be easily taken apart and packed in small compass and as easily reassembled.

The stand consists of two pieces of stout sheet iron, say about gauge 22, cut to the dimensions and form indicated. It is plain that the pieces are intended to fit each other and be mutually self-supporting by means of grooves at aa, the edges being turned back at b to give sufficient stiffness to support the vessel containing water to be heated. The top triangular pieces are turned down on lines c to make a broader resting place for the vessel.

The circular bottom d gives a smooth surface upon which the alcohol stove may rest, and it also holds the feet in place. This stove must be a covered seamless sheet metal can, for a soldered can would be ruined by the heat. If it is desirable to use a larger can than the one indicated for the sake of greater efficiency, the 3" space in the center of the feet and the outside dimensions must be changed to conform to the size of the can. Also the diameter of the circular bottom d. Fill the stove with asbestos; a ruined asbestos pipe covering may be crumbled and used with perfect satisfaction and practically no cost. Pour in alcohol until the asbestos is saturated, when the application of a lighted match will furnish as efficient heat as more elaborate equipment of the same capacity costing several dollars.

hesitating. "Let him stay here till we come back, he'll be all right, you hear," turning to Jack. "Billy and I are going to my house for a minute, you wait here." "And don't you budge," added Billy. "Last time you started home alone and got lost, and I got in an awful row. Promise now not to move from where you are, and I'll take you to the picnic, how's that?"

"All right, I promise," said Jack. "And Billy knew Jack's promises were to be depended upon, and the two boys left him alone."

There he sat fishing patiently, but not a fish could he catch, the time seemed very long. He wondered why the boys did not return—and he began to feel very hungry, and would have liked to run home for tea, for surely it was getting darker and the sun was setting. But a promise must be kept and there he sat, clutching his rod bravely while tears ran slowly down his cheeks—he was so tired.

Meanwhile the two boys had made their way to the rabbit hutch—and were selecting one for Billy, when they heard a call:

"Say boys, want to come to the ball game with me," and there was Mr. Grant, Tom's father, waiting in his car. Rabbit, Jack and everything else was forgotten.

"Sure!" they both shouted, and in an instant they were seated in the car bowling along the road.

When Billy arrived home late for tea, he found the whole house in excitement and trouble. Jack could not be found anywhere.

"O mother," he cried, shocked at his own forgetfulness. "I'll get him. I know where he is!"

Jumping into the Grant's car, off they sped, he telling his tale as they went. Yes, there was Jack still sitting on the bank, the shadows gathering fast around him.

He gave one jump into Billy's outstretched arms.

"I kept my promise, Billy," he whispered. "O Jackie, how can I tell you how sorry I am," cried Billy, hugging him.

At first Daddy refused to allow Billy to attend the picnic, but mother and Jack begged so hard, he relented. "I am not afraid Billy won't look after Jack now," mother said, and she was right.

TOMATO OMELETTE

Use one egg for each person to be served.

Break the egg dividing the white from the yellow and putting into separate bowls.

To the whites, add 1 tablespoonful water for each egg.

Beat till stiff.

To the yolks add

1/2 teaspoonful salt

1 dash paprika

1 teaspoonful tomato extract for each egg. Use the thick tomato that comes for soup.

Beat till well blended.

Make the omelette pan hot and grease well with butter or meat drippings as preferred.

Gently fold the yolks into the whites and pour at once into the omelette pan.

Cook for two minutes over a medium fire and then put into a hot oven. The length of time for cooking will depend on the number of eggs used. Twelve minutes will probably cook an omelette for four persons.

Serve at once.

OLD MR. TERRAPIN

Let's go to visit Mr. Terrapin today," Teddy said. "He lives just over the way in the big GREEN pond!"

"Oh, yes," Susie May agreed. "I will put on my new YELLOW dress and wear my PINK hair ribbon."

"Do," said Teddy. "And I'll dress up in my new middie suit with BLUE collar, cuffs and trousers."

So off they went, two happy PINK checked children. Teddy's BROWN hair was all mussed up by the wind, but Susie May's pretty YELLOW curls were held well in place by her ribbon.

"Oh look at the RED-RED sun!" cried Teddy. "It's making a RED patch in the pond!"

"And the sky is all streaked with RED and ORANGE bars," cried Susie.

"YELLOW and RED make ORANGE," informed Teddy wisely. "Did you know that?"

There were GREEN bushes all around the pond and a fence of tall BROWN topped cat-tails for the sun to peep through. "Right in the sun's eyes," as Susie explained.

"Look there's Mr. Terrapin," cried Teddy.

Sure enough, there he was, a big curved-backed thing all in GREEN checks with YELLOW stripes between a and a YELLOW cap and RED necktie.

"Hello kids," Mr. Terrapin said. "Want a ride?"

"Indeed we do!" they said together. And Teddy took off his BROWN shoes and held Susie's hand as she balanced on a big RED-BROWN rock.

"I'm going to pick Mr. Terrapin some of these pretty BLUE flowers," she said, and picked a bunch to take along.

When it gets darker, Mr. Owl will be able to solve it. Maybe you can help him. We have given you three sets of words of three letters, but we have omitted the middle letter of each word. You are to supply the middle letters of the words, so that you will have, reading downward in each of the three columns, the names of birds. What are the three birds?

THE JUNIOR COOK
TOMATO OMELETTE

Use one egg for each person to be served.

Break the egg dividing the white from the yellow and putting into separate bowls.

To the whites, add 1 tablespoonful water for each egg.

Beat till stiff.

To the yolks add

1/2 teaspoonful salt

1 dash paprika

1 teaspoonful tomato extract for each egg. Use the thick tomato that comes for soup.

Beat till well blended.

Make the omelette pan hot and grease well with butter or meat drippings as preferred.

Gently fold the yolks into the whites and pour at once into the omelette pan.

Cook for two minutes over a medium fire and then put into a hot oven. The length of time for cooking will depend on the number of eggs used. Twelve minutes will probably cook an omelette for four persons.

Serve at once.

OLD MR. TERRAPIN

Let's go to visit Mr. Terrapin today," Teddy said. "He lives just over the way in the big GREEN pond!"

"Oh, yes," Susie May agreed. "I will put on my new YELLOW dress and wear my PINK hair ribbon."

"Do," said Teddy. "And I'll dress up in my new middie suit with BLUE collar, cuffs and trousers."

So off they went, two happy PINK checked children. Teddy's BROWN hair was all mussed up by the wind, but Susie May's pretty YELLOW curls were held well in place by her ribbon.

"Oh look at the RED-RED sun!" cried Teddy. "It's making a RED patch in the pond!"

"And the sky is all streaked with RED and ORANGE bars," cried Susie.

"YELLOW and RED make ORANGE," informed Teddy wisely. "Did you know that?"

There were GREEN bushes all around the pond and a fence of tall BROWN topped cat-tails for the sun to peep through. "Right in the sun's eyes," as Susie explained.

"Look there's Mr. Terrapin," cried Teddy.

Sure enough, there he was, a big curved-backed thing all in GREEN checks with YELLOW stripes between a and a YELLOW cap and RED necktie.

"Hello kids," Mr. Terrapin said. "Want a ride?"

"Indeed we do!" they said together. And Teddy took off his BROWN shoes and held Susie's hand as she balanced on a big RED-BROWN rock.

"I'm going to pick Mr. Terrapin some of these pretty BLUE flowers," she said, and picked a bunch to take along.

P. S.—Color the border BROWN and the lettering GREEN.

SEEK 300 HERE
UNDERWRITE
WALNUT SHOW
BIG GROWTH IN ELECTRICITY
USE NOTED

J. C. Metzgar, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, today was making preparations to ascertain definitely whether Santa Ana desires to institute a walnut exposition in this city as an annual feature in promotion of the agricultural and industrial interests here.

The evidence sought is the signature of three hundred or more persons to pledge to make up any deficit that may result from the first show. The liability for each signer will not exceed $100 and the more that sign the less the individual loss will be should the financial returns from the exhibit not be sufficient to meet the expense, it was pointed out.

Surprising commercial and industrial increases, and residential growth in Los Angeles and Southern and Central California, will be shown by the report of new electric meter connections, which the Southern California Edison company is preparing to cover the first six months of 1922, according to information which W. L. Deimling, manager of the company's Santa Ana district, received today.

Installation of new electric connections to factories, stores, ranches and houses, and the record of kilowatt hour consumption, furnishes an accurate measurement of community expansion, it was stated.

In the ten counties, exclusive of the city of Los Angeles, the number of the company's consumers will have increased approximately 18,000 over the first six months of 1922, the report showed.

Actual records for January, February, March and April, with conservative estimates of the ratio of increase during May and June, show the following conclusions as of July 1, 1922:

The business of the company within the city of Los Angeles, now at wholesale, shows a 75 per cent increase, totaling 154,035 kilowatt hours more than the sales for the same period in 1921. The total increase of kilowatt hours sold by the company in Los Angeles and its outside territory, will be 25,934,278, or an increase of 7 per cent.

During the first six months of this year, the increased demand on the Edison system will show a total gain in the demand's connected load of 57,945 horsepower. Actual figures for January, February, March and April show an increase of 13,072 horsepower for lighting; 6,306 horsepower for agriculture; in the oil industry 1,371 horsepower; for manufacturing purposes 2,419 horsepower; for electric railways 6,979 horsepower, and for miscellaneous purposes 9,304 horsepower. During the same period, the mining industry showed a decrease of 1,510 horsepower, which is the only business that has not gone ahead.

Carrying out the agricultural estimates for May and June, there is shown an increase of 9,000 horsepower used for irrigating ranch land, which, according to the basis of horsepower per acre for irrigation purposes, demonstrates that approximately 16,000 acres of new agricultural land has been brought into cultivation under the Edison lines and by the use of electricity.

KEY WEST SUB BASE NEARING COMPLETION

KEY WEST, Fla., June 20.—Construction of the navy's submarine base here at a cost of approximately $1,800,000 will be completed by Aug. 1, according to the public works department at the naval station. The project includes a new breakwater and nine large timber piles capable of berthing 50 submarines.

Construction of the breakwater, built near old Fort Taylor and at a point where heavy seas always prevail, was said to have been the most difficult jobs of the kind the navy has accomplished. One civilian workman lost his life, having been washed overboard and drowned.

Additional work proposed at the submarine base includes construction of a marine railway at a cost of $250,000, power plant improvements to cost $25,000 and installation of coal handling machinery at an expenditure of $15,000. These projects have been approved by the navy department and are now before Secretary Denby for his approval before being transmitted to congress with a request for the necessary appropriation.

BOY PERFECTS VEST POCKET RADIO SET

MODESTO, Calif., June 20.—Ralph Brown, 13-year-old student at the Modesto high school, has perfected a radio receiving set which, in the matter of size, is the most remarkable device for the reception of waves seen in this city.

Young Brown's set is wound inside a small pill box and measures just 1 1/2 x 1 1/2 x 1 inches, outside dimensions. It consists of an inductance and crystal detector and may easily be carried in the watch pocket of a man's vest.

EVENING SALUTATION

"Silence is the perfectest herald of joy;
I were but little happy, if I could say how much"

ARE YOU REGISTERED?

There are thousands of men and women living in Orange county who will desire to vote at the primaries August 28; there are hundreds who will be unable to vote because they have not registered or have failed to transfer.

Strange as it may seem, the average citizen has to have a registration deputy call upon him at some time satisfactory to the citizen before he (the citizen) will register. This same citizen will wake up on election day. If by any chance the registration deputies have not hunted him down and obtained his registration, he will hurl his chagrin at some public official's head.

As a matter of fact, nobody but the citizen himself is responsible for a failure to register. The county clerk of this county is doing all that can be expected of him in obtaining registrations. He has done and is doing his full duty, and more. He has sent out registration deputies into the highways and byways. Nevertheless, the real responsibility of seeing to it that you are registered is your responsibility. It is up to you to seek out a registration deputy. The county clerk's office is always open to you at least nine hours a day, for the office is open during the noon hour.

Within a few weeks, verification deputies will be out seeking signatures to nomination petitions. In that regard attention is hereby directed to the fact that no one but a duly registered citizen is eligible to sign one of those petitions. The signature of any person not registered will be stricken from the list.

There are many matters of consequence to be decided at the primaries. Nearly all of the county officers for the next four-year term will be elected at that time. Party nominations are to be made for various offices, including, governor, lieutenant-governor, United States senator and congressman. It is important, therefore, that you register. If you have registered since January 1 of this year and have moved from one precinct to another, and have not transferred your registration, you will lose your vote unless you transfer.

The last day for registration and the last day for receiving transfers of registration is July 29.

SIZING UP LAND PERILS

One of the most ironic pranks played by fate recently has to do with the former chief of the aviation service. He had flown hundreds of times without mishap. Venturing on horseback, he was thrown and had three ribs broken.

If he had been riding in an automobile, he might have been smashed up in a collision. Or walking across the street, he might have been run over. Or living in rural retirement, he might have been kicked by a cow.

Life on land always was precarious, and grows more so right along.

One is reminded of the sailor's classic soliloquy, in one of the old McGuffey readers:

"A strong nor'wester's blowing,
Hark! Don't ye hear it roar now?
Lord help 'em—how I pitiee all
Unhappy folks on shore now!"

NEW COMMUNITY PROPERTY LAW

According to the Woman's Legislative Council of California, representing the California Federation of Women's Clubs, a new community property law proposed will be submitted to the legislature of this state in the 1923 session.

In previous campaigns for similar laws in this state the opponents have declared that the measure "would interfere with business," or that the bill was not properly drawn. This year the women have presented a measure that they believe is in such shape that the likelihood of attacks upon it are minimized.

The announcement of the Woman's Legislative Council relative to the proposed measure contains the following:

A bill, giving the wife testamentary right over half of the community property, will carry on the fight begun with the organization of our Council in 1912. The women seek some recognition of the economic value of the labor of the wife and mother, through giving to the wife a right equal to that now enjoyed by the husband of willing one-half of the community property to his children, his dependent parents or to whomever he chooses. The women have insisted from the beginning on the principle that each spouse should have the same rights at death, though they are willing that the husband should retain the management and control of the community property during the life of the community. They claim that the old adage "Death treats all alike" has been falsified by the law of California; that Death brings to the husband a privilege which is denied to the wife.

So many cases are on record where the children of a first wife, who helped to accumulate the community property, are cut off in favor of the second wife or her children, or where a wife's dependent parents are left penniless in their old age, that it is felt that the time has come for a change in the law. It is a significant fact that the opponents of the last bill have acknowledged that the present laws are unjust. The only question at issue seems to be by what means justice may best be obtained, and what form the new law shall take.

Great encouragement has been given to the proponents of the measure by the recent decisions of the federal courts which seem to indicate that the wife may return a separate statement of her income from her half of the community property, even though control and management of that income is in the husband.

If the wife's right in the community is sufficient to justify a separate tax return, is it not sufficient to justify a right of testamentary disposition?

The women of the state believe that it is.

In its struggle to revise the community property laws of the state, the council has had the active aid of many other women's organizations. In 1917, it secured the passage of a law exempting the wife's half of the community from the state inheritance tax—a law which has saved many thousands of dollars to the women of the state. In 1919, a bill giving the wife testamentary disposition was carried through the legislature, but defeated on referendum at the polls, largely through a campaign waged against it by the California Protective Property League, an organization led by Senator Roseberry, of Los Angeles, who claimed that the form of the bill was objectionable.

This year, the leaders of the council called a conference in San Francisco, at which representatives from the leading women's organizations of the state met the representatives of the men's organizations, in an endeavor to frame a bill which would overcome the objections made to the law of 1919. The bill now proposed is a result of the year's work.

The California Federation of Women's Clubs at their convention in Los Angeles in May, voted, upon motion of Mrs. Aaron Schloss of Berkeley, to carry on a campaign of education among the women of the state looking to the revision of the community property laws, and in the event of the failure of the next legislature to pass a bill satisfactory to the women, an initiative petition may be put upon the ballot two years from now, to secure for wives the rights so long denied them.

Men and women alike are agreed that the question of the community property rights of husband and wife should be answered in a way which will bring about a definite and just settlement of this problem which has so long vexed the amicable relations of husband and wife.

The Mexican Debt

San Francisco Chronicle

The republic of Mexico is now ready to begin payment of the external and internal debt, said to aggregate about $700,000,000 or about $47 per capita. Our national debt is now around $219 per capita. Of course our people are richer than the Mexicans, but Mexico has enormous undeveloped resources, which will enable the debt to be carried and eventually paid with very light taxation. The republic seems to be freed from the danger of foreign intervention by the final decision of the Supreme Court that the so-called confiscatory provisions of the constitution are not retroactive. That decision could only be made by the Supreme Court, and the contention of our government that President Obregon should purport to make it has not yet been explained by our state department.

It is stated that following this decision arrangements have been made with a syndicate of bankers for underwriting any refunding loan which may be necessary. The Mexican republic has always paid its debts and with freedom from internal troubles should enter upon a new era of prosperity. And it is in a way to get rid of internal disturbances if only President Obregon can get hold of Felix Diaz and the other disturbing "Generals." Apparently they do not dare to go to Mexico, and it is the devout wish of all decent Americans that our laws permitted the President to round up the whole bunch and deport them to Juarez, where President Obregon would joyfully receive them. And they would not revolute any more.

The Price of Honesty

Visalia Delta

An order of the acting postmaster of Washington, D. C., grants special clerks, in charge of registry and money order departments, $200 a year more than ordinary clerks. There have been many thefts lately in these departments, and the theory seems to be that for $200 more per year clerks can be secured who will be honest instead of dishonest.

It opens up an interesting field of speculation. Can honesty be purchased for $200 a year? Hardly. Yet it may be true that the pay has been so low that honest men could not live on it, and the job attracted, in consequence, men who hoped to use it as a means of getting money dishonestly.

If this latter is the case, then will honest men, who could not live on $1800 a year, be attracted to the job now that it pays $2000? Is $200 enough to make the difference between honor and crime?

Get Rid of Them

Fresno Republican

Some candidates for public office in Fresno county, to whom attention has been called of the placarding of roads in the mountains with their faces and political announcements have sought to plead "not guilty" by declaring that these placards have been put up without their knowledge or consent by over zealous friends.

We think that the excuse is not to the point. It would be wise for such candidates to take active steps to see that the abuse of the forest regulations and of public fitness alike is stopped. It would be well for them to send out a runner to take down such signs, wherever they have been erected. The superior of the Sierra National forest has called our attention to the fact that many of these signs still remain, attached to the trees that were "God's first temples."

If these placards are voluntarily removed from the mountain roads reasonably soon, by the said candidates or by others for them, the matter will doubtless rest there. If they are not so removed privately, they will be taken down, we understand, by the employees of the government, and due publicity will be given to their action.

Life Is Lengthening

Long Beach Press

The average of human life in this country is lengthening. A great life insurance company makes the assertion that the average span of existence has increased from 49.2 years in 1901 to 54.3 years in 1920. In less than a single generation the gain in the average length of life has been one-fifth.

Several things contribute to this. For one thing, people generally are giving more attention to the laws of health and hygiene. They are leading physically cleaner lives. Another factor, which is not often credited in discussions of this kind, is the widespread prevalence of motoring for pleasure. A vast deal of traveling nowadays, both for pleasure and for business, is in automobiles, so that those who travel have the benefit of fresh air and the comfort of the traveling adds zest. This is promotive of health. Autoing and other forms of taking outings are adding to the years of the lives of men and women by relieving the stress and strain of strenuous modern life. Credit the automobile and good roads for adding in increasing the average span of life. There are other agencies and influences which tend to prolong human existence. But temperate, clean living and abundance of exercise in the open air are among the chief factors.

No Opponent for Johnson

Riverside Press

Walter P. Jones, staff writer on the Sacramento Bee, the other day reviewed state politics with particular relation to the filing of nominations for congress and state officers. Referring to the United States senatorship the writer makes this prediction relative to Senator Hiram Johnson:

Indications are that Senator Hiram W. Johnson will be unopposed for the Republican nomination. Upon returning from a recent trip to Los Angeles, the hotbed of Johnson opposition, Raymond Benjamin, chairman of the Republican state central committee, declared the senator was as good as re-elected and would have no opposition.

"It is the consensus of opinion in the south," said Benjamin, "that no opponent to Senator Johnson will be found. They think that as every one spoken of as an opponent declined to make the race, the time has gone by for getting together an opposition campaign."

THE SPECIAL FIFTEEN

Too many of us merely live days. As though to live were but to pass with the hours!

For my part, I find the greatest inspiration in the accomplishment of definite things. I like to map out a particular job and go to it and stay in it, until I am able to say that one more definite task is finished.

On the other hand, I find too many times that I have gone through a day without these milestones to mark my way.

I sat in my library the other day with books piled everywhere—every one bristling with unrevealed treasure for me. I looked into several and noted the dates written on the front leaves telling when I had purchased them. I sat for quite a time reading from one that had long ago attracted my attention. Then I let this book drop to my lap and speculated as to the time necessary to finish it. I figured that if I spent but fifteen minutes each day on a book I would finish dozens more than I do each year.

And then the idea came that it would be an excellent plan to reserve at least fifteen minutes each and every day for the accomplishment of some one thing.

Fifteen minutes for the purpose of practicing at writing to improve one's expression in conversation—fifteen minutes in which some flowers might be sent to some loved one—fifteen minutes out for a walk where quiet meditation might help to reveal one's own self to one's self—fifteen minutes dedicated to the spiritual side of one's nature.

It will surprise you to learn what a daily fifteen minute period is able to do for you. Perhaps you are living a life that is only partially awake—and maybe this fifteen minute plan will wake you completely!

Fifteen minutes may not seem a very long or important period, but it can be. The tide against Napoleon at Waterloo turned in less time. And it was this same Napoleon who gave as his reason for beating the Austrians that they "did not know the value of five minutes."

Worth While Verses

MESA-MIST

When the passion of the day is done,
And the weary sun,
Lingering above the far plateau
And mesa-waters, stains
The cottonwoods and cranes
With afterglow,
Day keeps a fleeing tryst
With Night, in the mist-mist.
When her vermilion arms embrace
The valleys, buttes, and plains
No more, spent Day, slips quietly to rest
Upon a ghostly mountain breast—
And nothing, nothing remains,
Save in the twilight places
The grosts of rains,
And dead forgetments whose wistful faces
Drop where the purple-pollened fir
Tinctures the dusk with lavender.

The Merchants' and Manufacturers' association has signed a contract for giving the California Glass Manufacturing company, in which Dr. J. G. Bailey of this city is interested, a site on East Washington avenue.

According to a story at Riverside, Walter Parker, Los Angeles, political boss, says that the Estudillo nomination at Riverside is a certainty in spite of the fact that Orange county's Republican convention, nominating a majority of the delegates to the state senatorial convention, instructed its delegates not to vote for Estudillo.

Little Benny's Note Book

by Lee Pope

Pop was playing tennis with Mr. Jones next door out in the park yesterday afternoon and me and ma was setting on the front steps waiting for him to come home so we could eat supper, me saying, "Theres a itching move around at the Little's Grand today all about cow boys and things, do you think pop will take us around after supper, ma?"

If he beats Mr. Jones this afternoon he properly will, but if Mr. Jones beats him he properly wont, sed ma.

Wich jest then pop and Mr. Jones tawking around the corner, Mr. Jones tawking and looking as if he felt grate and pop jest lissenng and looking as if he felt fersse, me saying, "O deer, he lost. And they came up, Mr. Jones saying, Well, Mrs. Potts, I certeny trimmed the ears off your husband today, how haw haw."

He who laffs last laffs best, sed pop. Meaning himself, and Mr. Jones went in his house and ma sed, Jest for that if I was you Willyum I wouldnt let him beet me agen, I know iackxy you you let him beet you, because he's just the kind of a man that wont play unless he wins, and you haff to have somebody to play with.

Well, to tell the truth thats jest about the size of it, sed pop. And he started to look as if he was starting to feel better, and we went in and started to eat supper, being Irish stew nothing speshil, and pop kept on tawking about how he could or beet Mr. Jones if he had of wanted to, saying, Just as you say, the trouble with Jones is, if he dont win he gets as if he'd just lost his best friend or something of that kind, and wats the natural result? Vv the natural result is, I give him every chance in the world to win, and wats the natural consequents? The natural consequents is, once in a while he does.

Well the next time you jest go ahead and beet him and let him suffer, sed ma, and pop sed, I believe I will be tired of humoring him. And he started to look as if he felt so much better I asked him if he would take us to the movies after supper and he sed he would.

Wich he did.

HER AUNT DIED

Speaking of embarrassing moments, the worst we have heard of came the other day to a Chicago newspaper woman who lectured in Evanston. She made a great hit, and the ladies came flocking up afterward.

"I can't tell you, Miss X," said one sentimental old lady, "how much we enjoy your articles. When my aunt was sick we read them to her every day."

Miss X cast about desperately for something modest to say. "It must have nearly killed her," she said at random.

"My aunt died," said the old lady in a hushed voice.—Chicago News.

Gov. Stephens---The Man

Although no formal announcement has been made of the candidacy of Governor William D. Stephens for re-election, such announcement is expected daily, and indeed without such announcement the fact of his candidacy is unquestionable.

Probably as a prelude to formal announcement, Edgerton Shores, a member of the State Board of Control, and a long-time close personal friend of Governor Stephens, has written a personal sketch, entitled "Behind the Screen—A Close Up of Governor William D. Stephens."

As Governor Stephens is well known politically and officially, to literally hundreds of thousands of people in California, certainly many who know him in this way only, will read Mr. Shores' sketch with interest. Here it is:

It has been said that "genius is an infinite capacity for hard work." A great merchant prince once said that the secret of his success was not in his organizing, nor in his financial methods, nor in his expert salesmanship, but in the fact that in the critical years of his business career, he was down at his store between five and six o'clock every morning, while other men slept or read newspapers.

The Governor of California, William D. Stephens, in his rise from the active ranks of commercial salesmanship, in his training as a lawyer, as a member of Congress, and as Governor, has shown throughout his career a genius for hard work. This man rises every morning about five-thirty o'clock, and six o'clock generally finds him at work, in his private office on the third floor of the Executive Mansion in Sacramento, where many of his state documents and addresses, and much of his correspondence have been worked out.

Arriving at his office in the capitol building at 8:30 to 9:00 o'clock, he applies himself to his task of the state administration, the long list of matters requiring the day's attention, having been carefully noted on a sheet of paper, each item being crossed off as it is disposed of. He frequently remains at work in his office until six o'clock, sometimes not going out for lunch, and often returning for work in the evening. This Governor puts in on his job from ten to fourteen hours of active business each day. He accomplishes an enormous volume of work by reason of three characteristics, his systematic methods of work, his ability to inspire his secretaries and other associates in their work, and his imperturbable poise in handling critical and difficult situations.

In the midst of the day's toil, dozens of visitors are likely to press for a few minutes of the Governor's time, some only to shake the hand that has greeted them somewhere by the way, side, or in his public meetings, others seeking favors for themselves or their friends, and still others bent on important business for the state. However burdened with work, the Governor invariably meets these people and their situations with beaming countenance and genial smile. His unfailing courtesy to strangers and employees is one of the distinguishing marks of this gentleman.

His genuine love of humanity and his unceasing pleasure in meeting people, is one of the secrets of his popularity. Many a man, indifferent to the Governor's prestige, or critical of his policies, has been disarmed of criticism and has become his enthusiastic friend by coming under the benign influence of his kindly personality and his unfailing courtesy in his office. It has been said that the only way you can fight Governor Stephens is at long range; when you come up close to the man, you are apt to become the champion.

Never was any man more devoted to his wife and family than William D. Stephens, and no husband or father could be more unselfish. When Major Randolph T. Zane became his son-in-law, he also became his only heir, and when this brave warrior lost his life in the war, Governor Stephens passed through a Gethsemane, in whose tears were found the baptism of his devotion to the soldier welfare cause.

Governor Stephens is a great lover of nature and fond of all kinds of outdoor recreation, such as motoring, golf, fishing and hunting. He prefers his open automobile to the drawing room on any train de luxe, and has covered over 150,000 miles in his machine during his administration, visiting all communities and every county, some of them several times, "selling California to her people" and inspecting the institutions and developments of the state. His health is marvelous, and he never appears to experience fatigue in travel, conversing with scores of hundreds on the way, and making addresses two, three and four times a day.

For an executive, Governor Stephens is never hasty in forming his conclusions, and making his decisions. One of his favorite expressions is that, "nobody can tell this Governor where to head in." He is absolutely fearless, and when he has definitely made up his mind on any proposition, no drive of influence or appeals can swerve him from his decision. A man of tremendous will power, he appears to be never worried or fussed by adverse criticism, but takes it all as coming in the life of a public man. But in the process of forming his own conclusions, Governor Stephens is essentially a man of the mind, listening to the counsels of his advisers with the earnestness of a man who wants to have all the facts. One of his customary expressions is this, "I am not blind to the consequences of my decisions, but I only want to know what is the right thing to do, and if I can, I will do it."

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

Ben Rabbit Treats Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton

Nancy and Nick looked and looked for Mr. Peerrabout, the Man-in-the-Moon, but he wasn't anywhere to be found.

Old Comet-Legs had pushed him off the Moon so he could be Moon-Man in his place.

By 'n' by they came to the place Ben Bunny lived with his wife, Blossom, and tapped on the door.

"My, my, Ben, look who's here!" cried Blossom, when she'd wiped her hands on her apron and shaken hands.

Ben came lopping up, bowing and scraping and wiggling his ears joyfully.

"Just in time for lunch, my dears," said he. "And say, that Blossom here is some cook."

Mrs. Blossom blushed on her pin nose and looked proudly at her husband.

"Yes, but I've a good provider," she declared. "Ben brings home the nicest things."

"Depends upon the time of year, my dears," said Ben importantly. "Lettuce and radish tops and new-pear shoots are at their best just now. Um yum! Blossom can make a salad that would melt in your mouth. But there, come in and find out for yourselves."

Ben bowed them in and set chairs and Blossom brought in the food to find poor old Peerrabout and take him home.

"Say," said Ben suddenly. "I saw a stranger today! Ragged as a beggar, too, as you say the Moon-Man is. He was standing in the cornfield right beside Farmer Smith's sassa-patch garden."

"Oh, will you show us where he is?" cried Nancy. "Maybe it's Mr. Peerrabout."

"Sure," said Ben obligingly, and they all started off toward the cornfield at once.

"There he is," cried Ben, pointing to a silent, motionless figure in an old, tattered coat and torn hat.

"Why, that's Mr. Scare-Crow, Ben," said Nick. "Farmer Smith has just put him out to scare the crows away."
